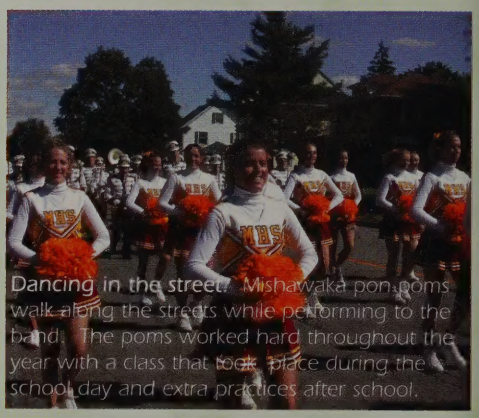
Colorful fun. The yearbook staff lets loose and has some crazy fun with silly string. The staff decided to have some fun after the two week long kickoff promoting the all color yearbook. While promoting the book the staff wore matching tie-dyed t-shirts so that they could easily be spotted.

A Colorful beginning to the school year

This year the yearbook staff decided to have some wild and crazy fun to celebrate the first ever all color yearbook, at Mishawaka High School. The staff celebrated the fact of an all color yearbook by having a two week long kickoff, to let the staff and students know about the upcoming book. The staff went all out with sidewalk chalk, window painting, balloons tied on cars, passing out colorful candy, and a huge banner. Not to mention the drawing held after school for two weeks that allowed students a chance to win fifty dollars, that is if they had already prepaid for a yearbook. For those who had not prepaid for a yearbook but had had their name drawn, received nothing. This helped to motivate students to purchase a yearbook. The sales drive was a huge success and the word got out about the book. To relieve some stress of all of the yearbook staff's hard work, they decided to have some colorful fun with silly string. This allowed them to relax and take a break from the kickoff before the real work on the book began.

Parading into a new year



Dancing in the street. Mishawaka pon-poms walk along the streets while performing to the band. The poms worked hard throughout the year with a class that took place during the school day and extra practices after school.

Leading the way. The Mishawaka High School band leads the way through downtown Mishawaka. The band played music throughout the parade, while parents and students lined the streets.

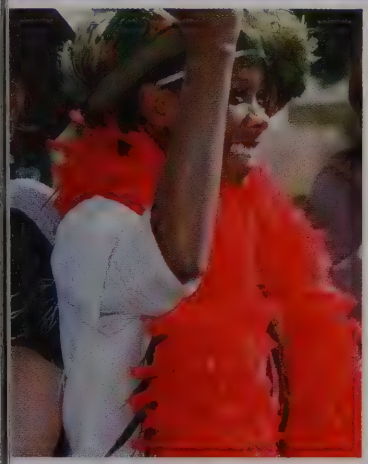
This year was an exciting year for both students and staff. This year was the first year in four years that Mishawaka High School had successfully pulled off a homecoming parade. In the past years, the parade had been rained out, ruining the fun for outdoor festivities. The seniors were especially excited with this being their last year at Mishawaka and their first parade. Many students were involved in the parade everyone from athletes, to the band, and student council. The parade was a huge success. The parade included fire trucks, convertibles, semi-trucks, and floats. The band lead the way through downtown Mishawaka with the poms performing throughout the walk. Although this was the first parade in four years it was well worth the wait.

Riding in style. The CAD students walk along the street while displaying their module that they made throughout the first part of the year. This module took much time and hard work but the end result was worth it.

Senior pride. Seniors, Amanda Stamm and Jamie Riddle, proudly show off their "Cavemen Seniors" sign. Seniors along with underclassmen came together to make floats for their class. These floats were used in the parade with students from that grade riding on the float. This allowed students to come together and show their school spirit.

Hang on! The Waltonians wave to parents and students on the streets as they travel through downtown Mishawaka. Waltonians were a group of volunteers who helped clean up the school by recycling.

STUDENT LIFE



GOD BLESS
FALLEN HEROES

Stacked high: Mi Hi guides, also known as the student planner, are piled up the day of registration. At registration, students came to get their picture for the yearbook taken and fill out paperwork for the upcoming year.

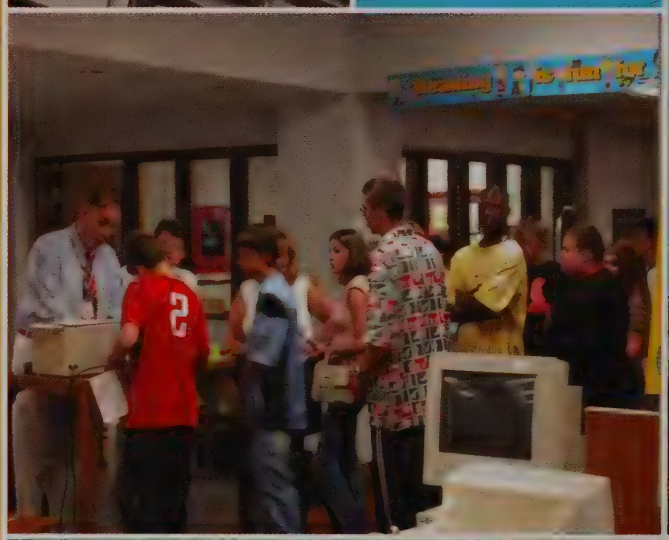
Prepping for a pic! Mrs. Brenda McLane prepares to take a picture of a student. A station next to the locker rooms was setup so that students who needed a new ID photo taken could get it taken quickly and easily. This system was designed during the second half of the year and helped to keep things running smoothly.

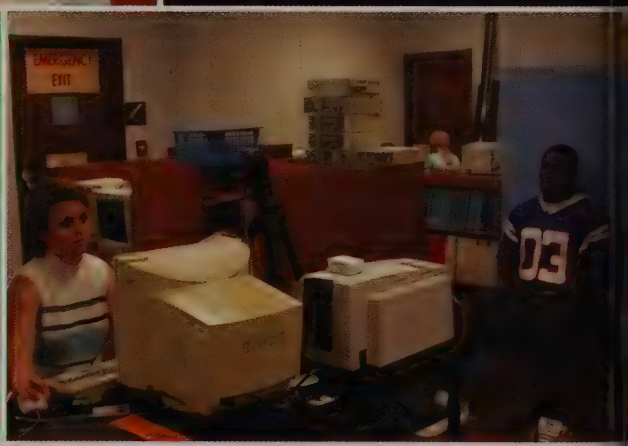
A long wait: Students line up in the library to get their temporary ID for the day. Students who forgot their ID that day were made to purchase a temporary ID for a dollar.

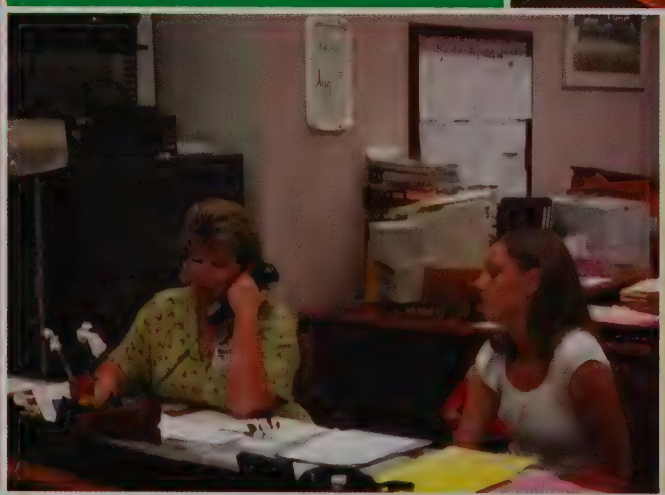
Mug shot: Ms. Elizabeth McPhail prepares to take a picture of Brad Howard, Jr. Towards the middle of the year, a new fad had evolved in collecting IDs. In order to stop this fad, punishments were enforced to students who purchased five or more ID's in a semester.

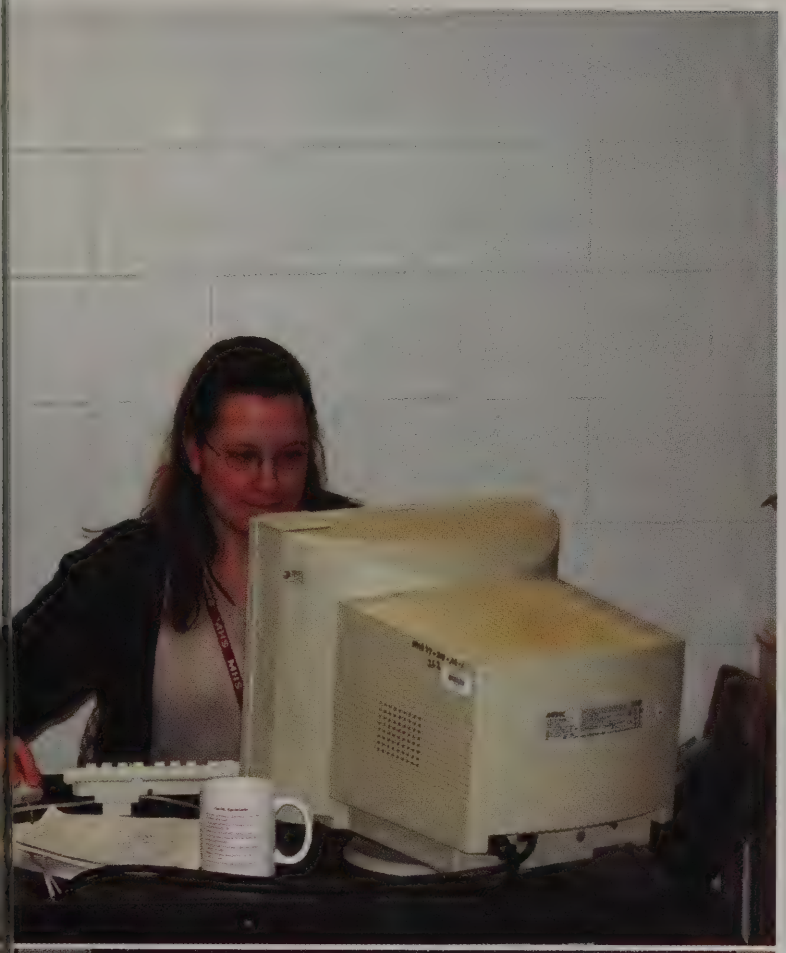
Main office madness: Mrs. Dianne Yocum and Amber Armstrong, Sr. busily answer phones and take messages in the main office. The main office was a busy place during the school year, so to help the secretaries out, student workers came in and assisted them.

ID patrol: June Riley, Sr. and Mrs. Marilyn Trover check to make sure students have their ID on correctly. Students who did not have an ID displayed correctly or who did not have an ID at all were made to purchase another ID.









New Colors of the School Year

Every school year begins the same, students come back to school after a long summer break and are hyped up to see their friends, but after a week into the school year they are ready for the year to be done. Every year the school encounters changes. Last year students faced such changes such as a new principal and many new teachers. This year students faced an even bigger change, school Id's. A new policy went into affect that made it mandatory for students to wear school Id's at all times. If a student forgot their Id that day they were made to purchase a temporary Id for a dollar. If a student lost their Id or damaged it they were made to purchase a new Id for two dollars. At first this policy did not go over well with students, but once they got the hang of it, it ran smoothly. The policy was at first laxed with students allowed leeway to wear their Id's anywhere that was visible. However, as the year progressed students were made to wear them around their neck on their lanyard so that they could easily be identified by the staff. Students were even checked at the door before entering school to make sure that they were wearing their Id. This helped to prevent students from leaving class to get and Id.

In the spotlight. Renee Woodward (Sr) stands center stage in the play Cinderella. Renee played the part of the stepmother. Renee said that when she graduates she will "Miss acting in high school plays, but I will hopefully do some acting in my free time."

Giving it their all. Renee Woodward (Sr) and Abigail Simmons (Jr) give the audience their all while on stage. Renee said that she has done "about a dozen plays" during her acting career.

At the ball. The cast of Cinderella comes together in the ballroom scene of the play. "Preparing for the play took much hard work and dedication. The actors and actresses had to practice many hours in order to be ready for opening night."

Sibling rivalry. Carrie Hans (Sr) watches as Samantha Nicodemus (So) performs a scene with Tyler Grant (Jr). Carrie played the role of the younger stepsister. Carrie said that she will most likely carry out her acting career after high school. "I plan to do some acting at the South Bend Civic," said Carrie.

Taking center stage. Brandon Dennis (Jr) and Abigail Simmons (Jr) work hard while on stage to put on the best performance ever. Abigail played the leading role of Cinderella.

Prince charming. Samantha Nicodemus (So) and Tyler Grant (Jr) are all smiles under the spotlight. Tyler said that he became interested in acting since "Both of my parents acted in high school and so did my brother. It just seemed like it would be a fun thing." Tyler played a huge role in the part of the prince.

Thespians Tickled Pink

over Cinderella production

"Opening night of the play was so exciting", said Sophomore Samantha Nicodemus. Samantha was one of the main actresses in the play Cinderella. Samantha played the role of the wicked stepsister along with Senior Carrie Hans. While Carrie has done numerous plays over the years this was Samantha's first play that she had done, with hopefully more to come. Samantha said, "I've always enjoyed making people laugh and acting was a great way to do that." Practicing for the play took much dedication and hard work. The cast and crew practiced five days a week for five weeks in order to be ready for opening night. Although five weeks of practice may seem like a long time, it was well worth it in the end. Renee said that her favorite part of acting is "Being able to become someone else for a day." However, Samantha said that she enjoyed "Making new friends and hanging around backstage." The play was shown for four days with a great turnout. While this play brought out people of all ages, the audience mainly consisted of young children.

Help! Christopher Wagner (Fr) and David Davis (Fr) act like they are going to dump Corey Carstens (Fr) head first into the trash can. Corey said that "Nerd day was my favorite day during spirit week."

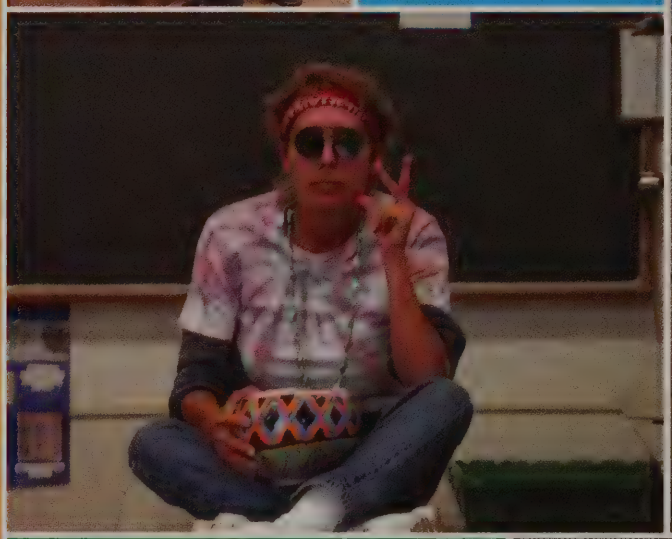
Ouch! Jamie Riddle (Sr), Kara Leniski (Fr), and Samantha Nicodemus (So) laugh while pulling Brannigan Benson's girl hair. Spirit week took place during the week of homecoming for both basketball and football seasons. This not only was a fun time but helped to pump up the basketball and football teams for the upcoming game.

Far out. Ms. Lori Kizer shows her school spirit on hippie day. Hippie day was just one of the days chosen by student council during spirit week.

Young at heart. Seniors Andrew VanBelleghe, Benjamin Modlin, Jamie Riddle, Christopher Aldrich, Bradley Wisler, Alice Wilson, and Elizabeth Urban show their true age on retirement day. Retirement day allowed students to dress up as their elders with walkers and canes.

Aloha. Seniors Kari Stamm, Jacob Jozwiak, and Alice Wilson do a hula dance during hawiian day. Student council sold lays for one dollar apiece. This helped students and staff the opportunity to participate in hawiian day without spending a lot of money.

Two of a kind. Seniors Scott Blanda and Danie Gleissner pose for a nerdy picture. Nerd day was one of the most popular days during spirit week. Students dressed in short pants, taped glasses, and pocket protectors.



Spirit Shines Maroon and White

Nerd day, Hawiian day, retirement day, hippie day, armed forces day, and the traditional maroon and white day were just some of the days during spirit week this year. Spirit week took place the week of homecoming in both football and basketball seasons. This got students pumped up for the big game that Friday. Spirit week allowed students and staff to dress up according to the wacky theme of the day. This year student council threw a twist into spirit week by adding a few non-traditional days such as retirement day. The traditional days that have been used for numerous years were Hawaiin day and nerd day, both favorites of students. Student council also thought of other non-traditional days such as fake an injury day and crazy hair day however, these did not make the cut. The staff also enjoyed these wacky non traditional days such as Mrs. Roberta Megyese who dressed up as Mr. Max Eby on retirement day. Senior Alice Wilson said,"My favorite day of spirit week was retirement day because I liked dressing up like an old lady. It was fun to wear wigs and talking in a different voice. I enjoyed being someone that I'm really not for a day." Alice also said that she enjoyed "Having different themes than in the past. It helped to get more students involved."

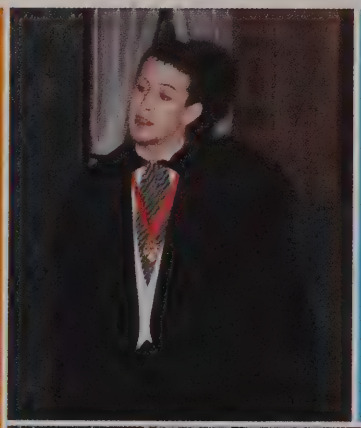
"I was really happy and surprised", said Laura Amacher after being crowned the 2004 Girls' Homecoming Queen. Girls' Homecoming was held during football season. However, this year the rain slowed the festivities down a bit but did not damper spirits. Laura said, "Homecoming was a lot of fun, the rain did not get me down." Senior Jason Wertz was an escort and said that "Homecoming was a lot of fun." Jason said that he wanted to be an escort because, "Throughout high school I would see other guys getting to escort for Homecoming their senior year and I always thought that it would be a lot of fun." Jason said that his favorite part of escorting was "getting dressed up and getting to wear a tux for free." Senior guys were given the opportunity to escort for Girls' Homecoming. Not all guys that signed up were able to escort. The student body voted for who they wanted to escort. A motivational symposium was held during the last hour of the day. Following the motivational symposium was a parade with girl Homecoming candidates and escorts riding in convertibles. After the game that night a dance was usually held but due to the delay from the rain the dance was cancelled.

Ready to attack William Hutter (Sr.) looks intently at the audience while playing the main role of Dracula. This was William's first play that he acted in and managed to take the leading role by storm.



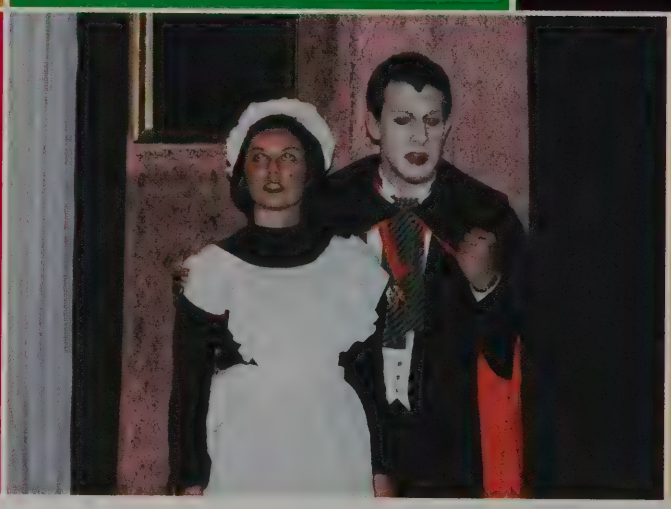
A painful welt Abigail Emmons (Jr.), Neil Abell (Sr.), and Brandon Dennis (Jr.) gasp in awe at the welt that was left on Michelle Farris (Jr.) neck by Dracula. Michelle said that she has acted in four plays.

If looks could kill William Hutter (Sr.) and Neil Abell (Sr.) talk before Dracula makes another attack. "Neil Abell said that his favorite part of acting is having the ability to be someone other than myself."

Reading between the lines Renee Woodward (Sr.) reads while talking to David Remberton (Sr.). David played the role of Butterworth. David said that the negative part to acting is that "People see you as a character and not as yourself."

In a daze Renee Woodward (Sr.) is put in a trance by William Hutter (Sr.). Renee said that she tried out for Dracula because "I was intrigued by the story line."

Turn that frown upside down Abigail Emmons (Jr.) stands firm while Christopher Kindle (Sr.) talks things over with her. Christopher said that this was the first play that he had done. He tried out because he thought that it would be a "fun extra-curricular activity."



Thespians See Red in Dracula production

"Dracula had an outstanding performance opening night," said Mrs. Ashley Bennett. The play Dracula ran for three nights November 20th until the 22nd, with every night bringing a bigger audience than the night before. Although the crowd turnout was not as good as the children's play Cinderella, there was still a good turnout. "Mostly parents and students came out to see the play", stated Mrs. Bennett, "while the Cinderella play consisted of mostly children." The cost of the play was four dollars for students but it was well worth every penny. Senior Christopher Kindig may not have had the leading role but certainly did an outstanding job for being his first play to ever act in. Christopher said that "The play was a lot of fun. I enjoyed being on stage and making people laugh." Christopher also said that the reason he tried out was because it "gave me something to do to keep me busy." "Preparing for a play take lots of hard work and is very time consuming but in the end all the hard work pays off," said Christopher.

'Tis the season. Tiffany Lovin '07 wraps gifts for the food drive. Each seminar class had the option to adopt a family. This meant that they were responsible for buying and wrapping Christmas gifts for their assigned family.

In the giving spirit. Robin Buck '07 and Fearn Turczynski '07 wrap presents for their seminar class. Some seminar classes sold candy in order to raise money to buy gifts.

Warming up! Seniors Megan Kuzmicz, Angeline Ashbolt, Brittney Taylor, Claire Devreese, and Bethany Anglin huddle together for a picture, while warming up from the cold. Students were often busy when it came to delivering packages but still managed to have fun.

Overflowing with love. Boxes were overflowing the day of delivery. Boxes were stuffed full of food items such as can goods, milk, bread, and eggs.

Working hard. Jason Chrapek '07 and Anthony Welch '07 fill boxes with nonperishable goods. Students who did not deliver had the opportunity to fill boxes with can goods. Jason said that he decided to do the food drive because "it is a good thing to do, and it really helps out the community."

Wrapping with a cause. Ashley Gill '07 cuts wrapping paper for the next present to be wrapped. The food drive this year was able to raise close to $7,000 for needy families.

Christmas Blues Disappear Through Student Generosity

"The food drive this year was the best it has been in years," stated Mr. John Manuszak. Mr. Manuszak has been head of the food drive for twenty-three years and felt that this year's food drive was the most successful that it had been in years. "Students really came together to help the less fortunate in our community," stated Mr. Manuszak. Students had an opportunity to not only get out of class but to help out the community by delivering the boxes to needy families. Students who wanted to take advantage of this opportunity had to fill out a form and state why they wanted to help with the food drive. However, Mr. Manuszak received an overwhelming number of forms and had to choose who helped with the drive. The food drive was able to help out 200 families with items such as milk, potatoes, bread, eggs, and rolls. These items were bought with money that was raised by students and staff. Seminar classes helped with the drive by adopting a family and raising money to buy Christmas presents for the family.

Shall we dance? Robert Lawson and Heather Long find a place to dance at Lake Lodge. The dance provided a wonderful atmosphere and allowed students to spend special time with their dates. For the opportunity to relax and enjoy a song or two.

Dance Until Your Face Turns Purple

This year the Winter Dance was held at a new location. Instead of being held at the F.O.P this year it was held at the what was formally known as the Mishawaka Athletic Club or Riverside Terrace. This new location helped to draw students into the dance. Senior Linzy Smith said that "I really liked the dance being held at the Riverside Terrace this year, it was different than in the past years." Although the Riverside Terrace was smaller than the F.O.P. that did not stop students from attending the dance. Students were still able to have a good time. Freshman Jessica Pelis said that she "had a a lot of fun" and would attend again. She said, "I really enjoyed the music although it was a bit crowded." The Winter Dance this year was held at the end of January while in the past it was held at the beginning of January, this gave students more time to prepare. The dance lasted for three hours from eight p.m. until eleven p.m. Students of all grades were allowed to attend from freshmen to seniors. Tickets were sold for $12 apiece for two weeks. Most girls dressed up in dresses while the guys mainly wore dress pants with a dress shirt and tie.

This year Bradley Wisler was crowned the 2003-2004 Boys' Homecoming King. Bradley said, "I was so excited and really surprised." The student body got to vote for who they thought was fit to be King and this year it was no surprise to many since Bradley had been on court for the past three years. Although Bradley did not get to wear a tuxedo like the rest of the senior guys on court he said, "it was still a lot of fun and such and honor to be chosen." Senior girls' had the opportunity to escort but a new constitution went into effect that allowed senior girls' on student council first opportunity to escort. From there three escorting spots remained and a ballot went out for the student body to vote on who the last three girls would be. Kari Stamm was one of those senior escorts and the student council treasurer. She said, "It was a lot of fun. I think that the new constitution rewarded those on student council for all of their hard work." Bradley, being the student council president, also thought that the new constitution was a "good reward for those who have worked hard throughout the year." After the game a dance was held in the gym.

Music to the ears - Carrie Hans (Sr.) puts her vocals to the test while standing center stage. Carrie said "I maintained my voice by just doing what I know how to do. My coaching throughout the years really helped me."

Ladies man - Christopher Kindig (Sr.) stands surrounded by the envious women of the town. Christopher was one of the main actors in the play. Christopher played the main role of Frank Butler.

Fighting up the stage - Carrie Hans (Sr.) and Renee Woodward (Sr.) do their best to make the audience laugh while on stage. Carrie held the leading role as Annie Oakley, while Renee played the role of Mrs. Wilson.

Marching to the beat - Benjamin Modlin (Sr.), Chrissa Cosby (Sr.), Justin Bryant (Fr.), Abigail Modlin (Fr.), and Ryan Ferris (Fr.) stand tall while marching forward as part of Buffalo Bill's Bronco Brigade. Benjamin, along with many other actors, played numerous roles in the play, from an Indian to a town's person.

All in the family - Daisy Winkler (Jr.), Holly Roberts, Carrie Hans (Sr.), Jade Marks (So.), and Garret Hertnoge sing together in a scene with Annie. Both Holly Roberts and Garret Hertnoge were students at Twin Branch Elementary School that were able to help out with the play.

Now introducing - Abigail Emmons (Jr.) introduces Frank Butler to the audience during the shooting match w. Annie Oakley. Abigail said that she has been acting for about five years.

Brassy Hans Leads Platinum Cast in Theatrical Gold Mine

The final play of the year ended in tears of joy and sadness. For the seniors this was the final curtain call. Senior, Renee Woodward, was one of the many seniors sad to see the curtain close. Renee said, "I plan on continuing acting at St. Mary's College, but it just won't be the same." Renee acted from her freshmen year all through her senior year. "The stage is a place where I can be whoever I want to be", stated Renee. Although Senior Carrie Hans was not standing center stage all four years while at Mishawaka, the stage was no unfamiliar place to her. Carrie was part of the stage crew from her freshmen year until her senior year. "This was the first year that I tried acting," stated Carrie, and "I absolutely loved it." When asked how she felt to receive the leading role, she stated, "I was so excited and surprised to receive the leading role of Annie." Carrie said that she plans on continuing her acting career at the South Bend Civic after high school. Carrie said, "I will be sad to see the stage go after all of these years but I know that the new stage will hold just as many great memories as the old stage."

Fighting for first Ryan Shields (So) plays the guitar for the band Fall of Autumn. Ryan and his band had to practice many hours in order to be ready for the big night, although they did not place in the top three they put up a good fight.

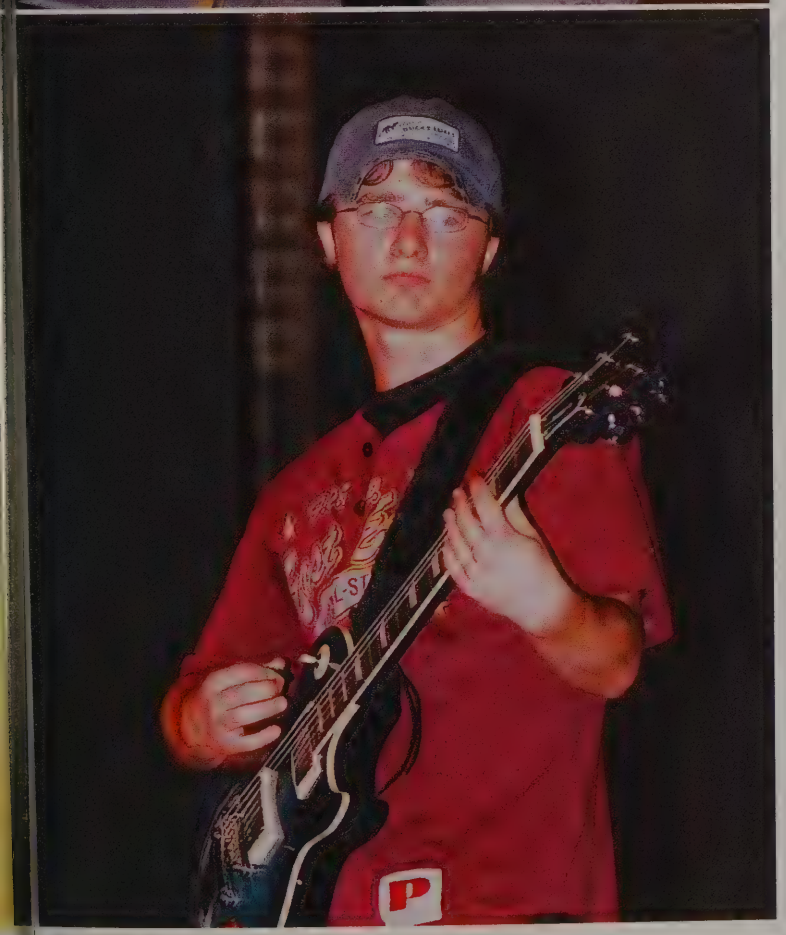
The best of the best Sean Goelle (Jr), Marty Zeak, Michael Maggen (So), and Sean Flemming (So) of Fatal Union do some last minute tuning before hitting the stage. Fatal Union came out on top with the most votes from the audience.

Drum roll please The Peace Police's Francis Laskowski (Fr) steals the show with a drum solo. Francis said, "We have been together almost a year now and we love playing together."

Taking third Orifice 10 Jacob Cramer (Jr), Kyle Null (So), Michael Spencer (Jr), and Jason Wertz (So) jam away during their performance. Orifice 10 won the audience over placing third overall. The audience was able to cast their vote at the end of the night after all five bands had performed.

Every vote counts Grace Plummer (Jr) tallies Kripen's votes after the show. Grace was one of many students council members who helped to tally the votes.

Practice makes perfect Kyle Null (So) focuses on doing his best in order to come out on top. Kyle was one of three guitar players in his band. Kyle and his band practiced at least twice a week in order perform their best in the competition.



Fatal Union Heats Up the Stage with Their Red Hot Performance

This year student council decided to sponsor a new event known as Battle of the Bands. Battle of the Bands allowed students who wanted to show off their talent to enter themselves along with their band into the contest. These bands paid a $30 entry fee which allowed them to play in front of the community in the auditorium. Students were allowed to watch these bands play the night of May 10th. Students paid a two dollar fee to watch and voted on for who they thought was the best. The band Fatal Union won first place. The winning prize was a $200 gift certificate to Witmer McNease Music Company. Senior Kyle Null along with Junior Michael Spencer, Senior Jason Wertz, and Junior Jacob Cramer from the band Orifice 10, entered the contest. Orifice 10 placed third overall losing by six points to the second place winner, Kripen. Kyle said, "It was a lot of fun even though we didn't win." Kyle is the lead singer of the band and plays guitar. Kyle said that "music has always interested me." There were a total of five bands that entered the contest. Although not all bands could win they all were able to pump up the crowd. The crowd turnout was quite large with about 150 people in attendance.

Dancing the night away. Heather Curtis (Sr.) and Robert Janeshesky (Jr.) dance to a slow song together. The dance consisted of a variety of slow and fast songs. Prior to the dance students were able to write down songs that they wanted played at the dance.

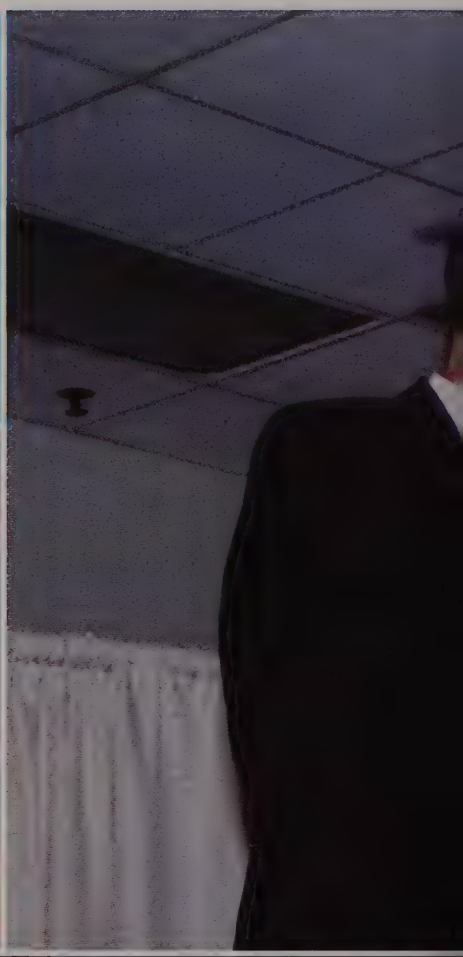
Prom royalty. Hope Grame (Jr.) places the hat on Travis Falls (Sr.) head after being chosen for the 2004 prom court. Hope was one of four juniors on the prom committee who helped to organize the junior-senior prom.

Pretty in pink. Seniors Laura Amacher, Amber Armstrong, Lindsay Myers, and Stephanie Paul smile for the camera after dancing the night away. Pink was one of the most popular dress colors for girls to wear.

Royalty of the night. Kyle Desmith (Sr.), Cameron Byall (Jr.), and Kriss High (Jr.) pose just after being chosen for the 2004 prom court. Three girls and three guys from both the junior and senior class were chosen to be on the prom court.

A night to remember. Students from the senior class take one last picture on stage before the night is over. After prom most students got together and hung out. The next day students were known to go to either Cedar Point or to the beach.

Hold that pose! Zachary Kline (Sr.) breaks out his dancing shoes and hits the floor to show everyone what dancing is really about. Most guys liked to sit at the side tables and relax while the girls danced, but Zachary was one of the few who liked to bust a move.



Lavender Dreams Come True

The prom this year was held at no spot other than the Mishawaka F.O.P., for what students hoped would be the last time. "I don't really like prom being held at the F.O.P." stated Senior Taylor Adams. Although the F.O.P. was not the first choice of students it was still a good time. "The decorations were really nicely done," stated Junior Shelby Morrow. The prom started at 8pm and ended at midnight. Most students went as couples, however, it was not unusual to see students with a group of friends. The cost of tickets was $18 apiece and were on sale for three weeks, after spring break. Most couples went out to eat prior to the dance while some couples even opted to make dinner at their houses. Girls' wore formal dresses while guys' rented tuxedos in numerous colors from black to light blue. This year white was one of the biggest colors for guys to be wearing. Before dinner and the dance most students went to the Shiojiri garden to take pictures. This attracted many couples and was a great place for pictures. The theme colors of the dance were lavender and light blue with silver accents. Students had the option to get their pictures professionally taken by Studio One. Punch and water was provided by the P.T.A. however, pop was $1.

Focusing on the three Antonio Dye (jr) focuses on making his three point shot. One of the events in Class Olympics was the three point shoot out which allowed students a certain amount of time to try to make as many shots as possible.

Don't fall! Seniors Jamie Riddle, Alice Wilson, Ashley Littlefield, Ashley Smith, Melanie Oswald, Stephanie Pate, Kasey Wearner, Brittney Taylor, Lindsay Myers, and Angelina Ashbolt work hard in order to keep their pyramid standing. Each class had to build a pyramid which ever class built it the fastest won that event.

Together as one The junior class comes together to show their spirit. Each class wore different colored t-shirts which were sold for $12 apiece. Each t-shirt had a different design on it which was chosen by student council representatives.

Faster, faster! Seniors Rosanna Kovatch and Brittney Taylor work to get the toilet paper roll back to the front. The up and over relay consisted of a toilet paper roll that was taken over and under students racing to get the roll back to the front.

Heads up! Sophomores Randolph Schuster, Matthew Brothers, and Scott Versyp get ready to make their next attack. One of the biggest events for guys was dodgeball. Although the rules differed from the elementary days it was still fun.

Giving it their all Freshmen Alexander Claeys and Matthew Went use all their strength to pull the rope over to their side. Tug of war required students to use all of their strength to beat out their opposing class.

Underclassmen Sing the Blues as Seniors Dominate Class Olympics

Every year students look forward to one event, Class Olympics. This is a competition like no other. This is where each class competes to win the title of Class Olypmics Champs. Each class competed in events such as dodgeball, human pyramid, limbo, the five legged race, ice cream eating contest, and the water balloon toss. This year was the first year that the class of 2004 has ever won Class Olympics. During their four years here at Mishawaka this was their first year to come out on top. Sophomores put up a good fight throughout the night but in the end the seniors came out on top. However, Sophomores felt differently about who the actual winner was. Sophomore Jamie Lukaszewski was one of those sophomores who felt that sophomores should have won. Jamie said, "Seniors won because they are cry babies. They weren't mature enough to lose to sophomores." Senior Matthew Zillman said, "We don't have to cry to win." In the end it wasn't about who was the most mature or the biggest cry babies but who performed the best and the seniors were the ones to prove that to the judges. At the end of the night the seniors took the glory, but all participates were winners.

Don't get wet. Rachel Todd (jr) and Chereece Garren (fr) wave as they flow down the stream on one of the many water rides. Students had the opportunity to ride both the coasters and the water rides.

Look, no hands. Daniel Brant (fr) raises his hands in the air as the wooden coaster takes the plunge. The wooden coasters are some of the oldest coasters known but are still popular rides to many.

Wild and crazy fun. Anthony Miller (so) has some fun riding one of the less dangerous rides in the park. Anthony said, "I enjoyed all of the rides at Cedar Point. My favorite ride was the Gemini."

The wheels on the bus... April Twohey (so), Caryn Escher (jr), Gladys Arroa-Ramirez (jr), and Sineyda Requeno (jr) pose on the bus for a picture. Sineyda said, "The bus ride was fun, other than when we got pulled over by the police."

Preparing for the worst. Michael Schmanski (so) stands next to the Top Fuel Dragster sign while waiting to get on the ride. Michael was one of many students excited to try to ride the Top Fuel Dragster for the first time.

Resting from the rides. Kevin Gosztola (so), Paige Fairchild (so), April Twohey (so), Joshua Rendall (so), and Spencer Patterson (so) take a break from the rides. Students had the freedom to do what they wanted to do as long as they remained in a group.

Green with Envy as Students Travel to Cedar Point

Every year students who have perfect attendance are rewarded with a trip to Cedar Point. This year 70 students received this award. Students along with selected staff left early morning May 14th and returned later that night. Students traveled by school bus for the four hour ride. Senior Brittany Tepe said, "One thing that I didn't like was that we had to travel by bus, other than that I really enjoyed the trip." Staff members were chosen to go on the trip to supervise. One of the chosen staff members was Mr. Derrick Snyder. Mr. Snyder said, "I had a great time. The weather wasn't that bad either, it rained for a short time but then blew over." The cost of the trip to students was free. The only expense for the students was lunch and any souvenirs that they wanted to purchase. Students were able to break up into groups and wander the park as they liked. Junior Sineyda Requeno was one of the students that was able to go on the trip. Sineyda said, "My favorite part of the trip was riding the Millennium Force for the first time. My least favorite part was the four hour bus ride." Overall students really enjoyed the trip and will look forward to perfect attendance next year.

Setting the mood The Mishawaka band plays as teachers, parents, and students enter the Senior Excellence Dinner. The dinner was held at the E.C.P. this year.

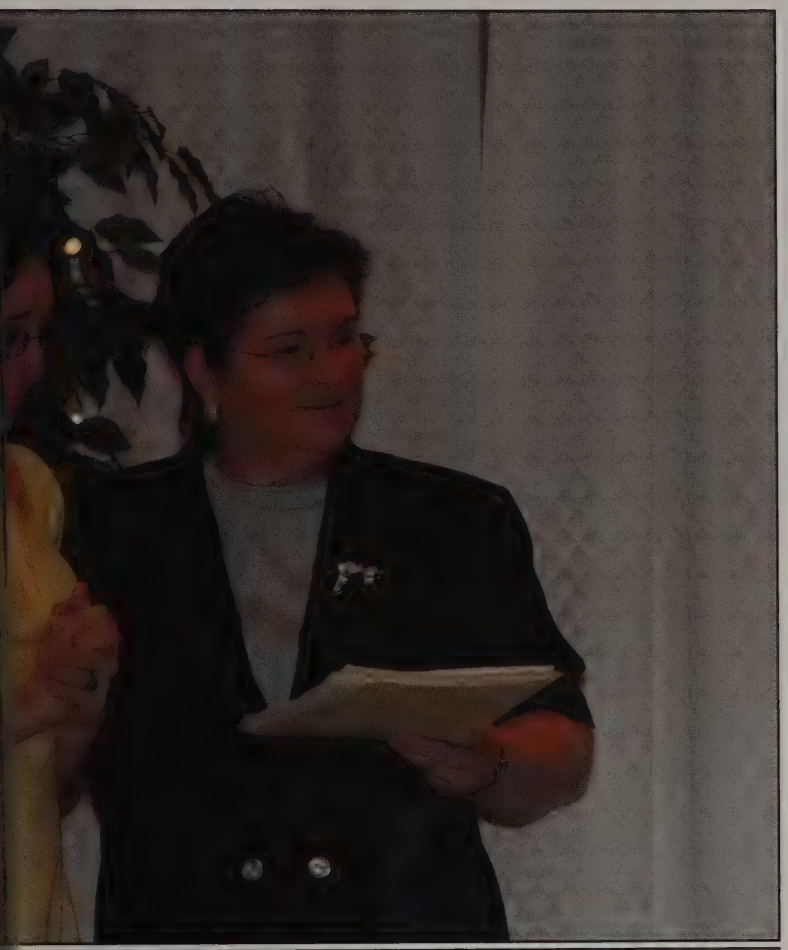
Honoring the best Senior Stephanie Bella receives her certificate from Ms. Anita Nash. Students not only received a certificate but also a plaque to honor all of their hard work.

A great honor Students sit together to proudly display their plaques that they received. Only thirty students received this honor out of over 300 students in the senior class.

Making a difference Mrs. Cindy Fisher sits with senior Miranda Wold during the ceremony. Each student was able to invite one teacher who has had the greatest impact on them while here at Mishawaka.

Top of the class Mr. Mark Gardner, senior William Smith, and Mr. Smith stand together for a picture after the dinner. Besides being able to invite a teacher students were also able to invite their parents.

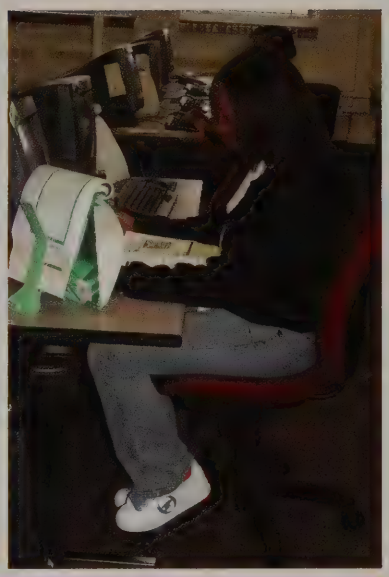
Honoring educators Mr. Max Eby hands Mr. John Maruzak an award for making such a difference in Senior Reannen Leazenby life during her four years here at Mishawaka.

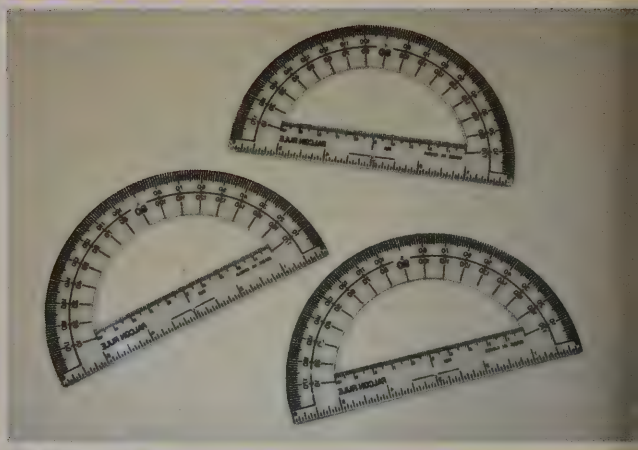


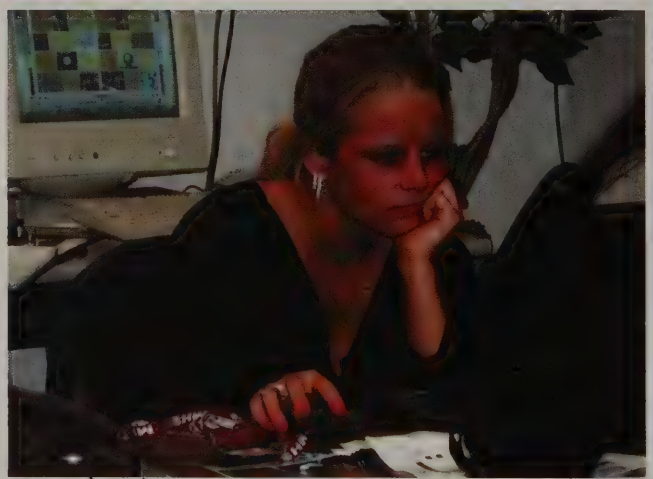
Seniors Award Teachers Gold Star of Excellence

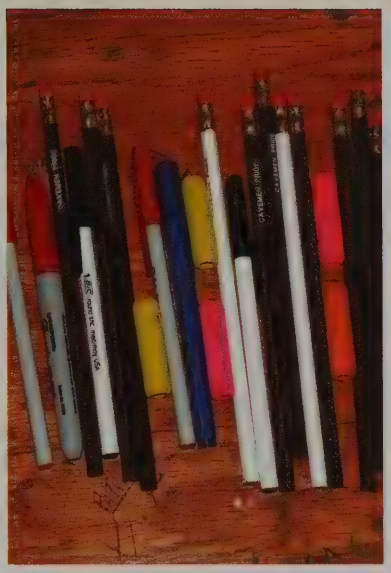
The second annual Senior Excellence Dinner was held this year at the Mishawaka F.O.P. This dinner was created by Mrs. Rachel Etherington two years ago. This dinner honors students who have maintained a 3.5 G.P.A. for seven semesters. Students were able to honor one teacher which has had the greatest impact on them during their four years of high school. Students were not only able to invite a teacher to the dinner but also their parents. Students enjoyed a polish buffet followed by an awards ceremony that honored not only students but teachers also. Mrs. Cindy Fisher was one of the thirty teachers chosen by students to be honored. Mrs. Fisher said, "I really enjoyed the dinner. It was such an honor to be recognized. I enjoyed hearing all of the positive comments that the students had to say about their teachers. I think that this dinner is a great idea. It is wonderful motivation for students to work their hardest throughout high school." This dinner will hopefully motivate more students into striving for a 3.5 G.P.A for seven of the eight semesters during high school.

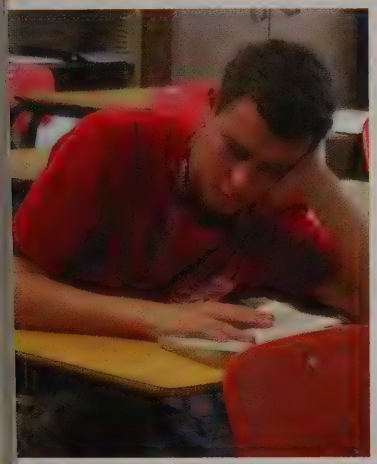
ACADEMICS

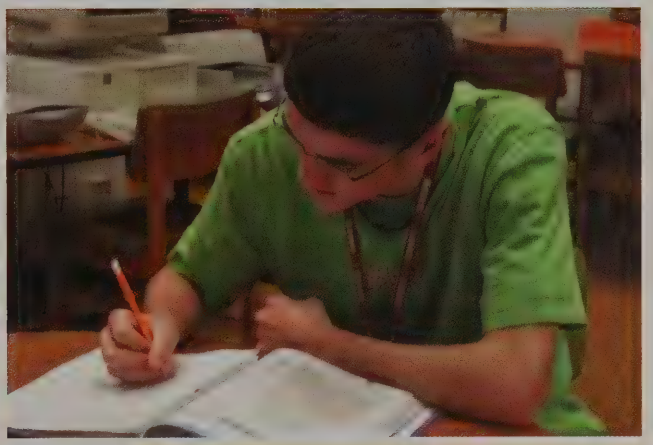


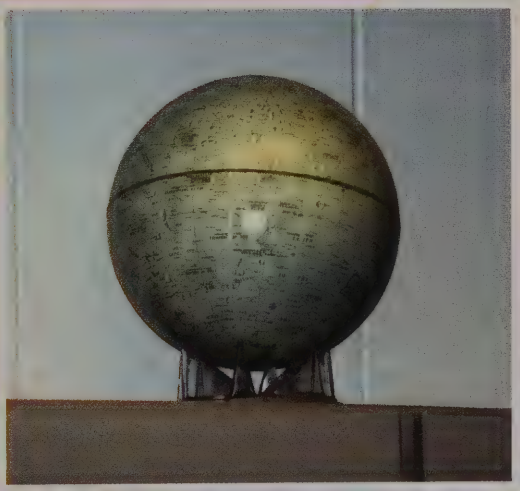


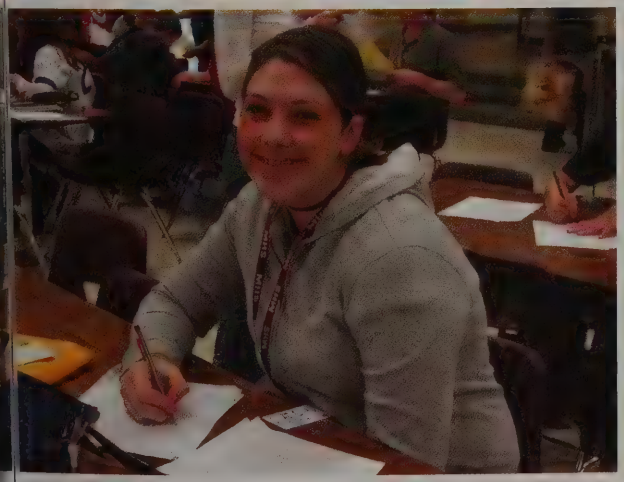












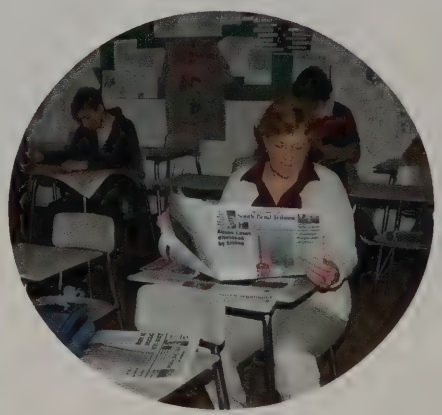
Reading all about it

Mrs. Cindy Fisher is an English teacher here at Mishawaka High School. She teaches students of every grade. Mrs. Fisher attended IU Bloomington and has been teaching here for seventeen years. Mrs. Fisher has had an enjoyable time at Mishawaka High School. She has many funny memories and stories from her time here.

One day a couple years ago, Mrs. Fisher, Mr. George Bogart, and Mrs. Laurie Coffel were out in the English hallway during passing period. They were all chatting nearby Mrs. Fisher's classroom and Mrs. Fisher had her back facing the hallway.

During this next block, Mr. Bogart had a blind student in his class. This particular student used a cane to make his way around. Usually he got around fine with no assistance.

Today, however this was not the case. The blind student came up behind Mrs. Fisher, and instead of tapping his cane on the ground, he stuck it right up between her legs and "goosed" her.



Mrs. Cindy Fisher reads the newspaper while her class is working. Often, in Mrs. Fisher's English classes she sets a timer for the amount of time the students were supposed to work. When the alarm would ring time was up. William Smith (Sr) said, " The alarm keeps me on task."

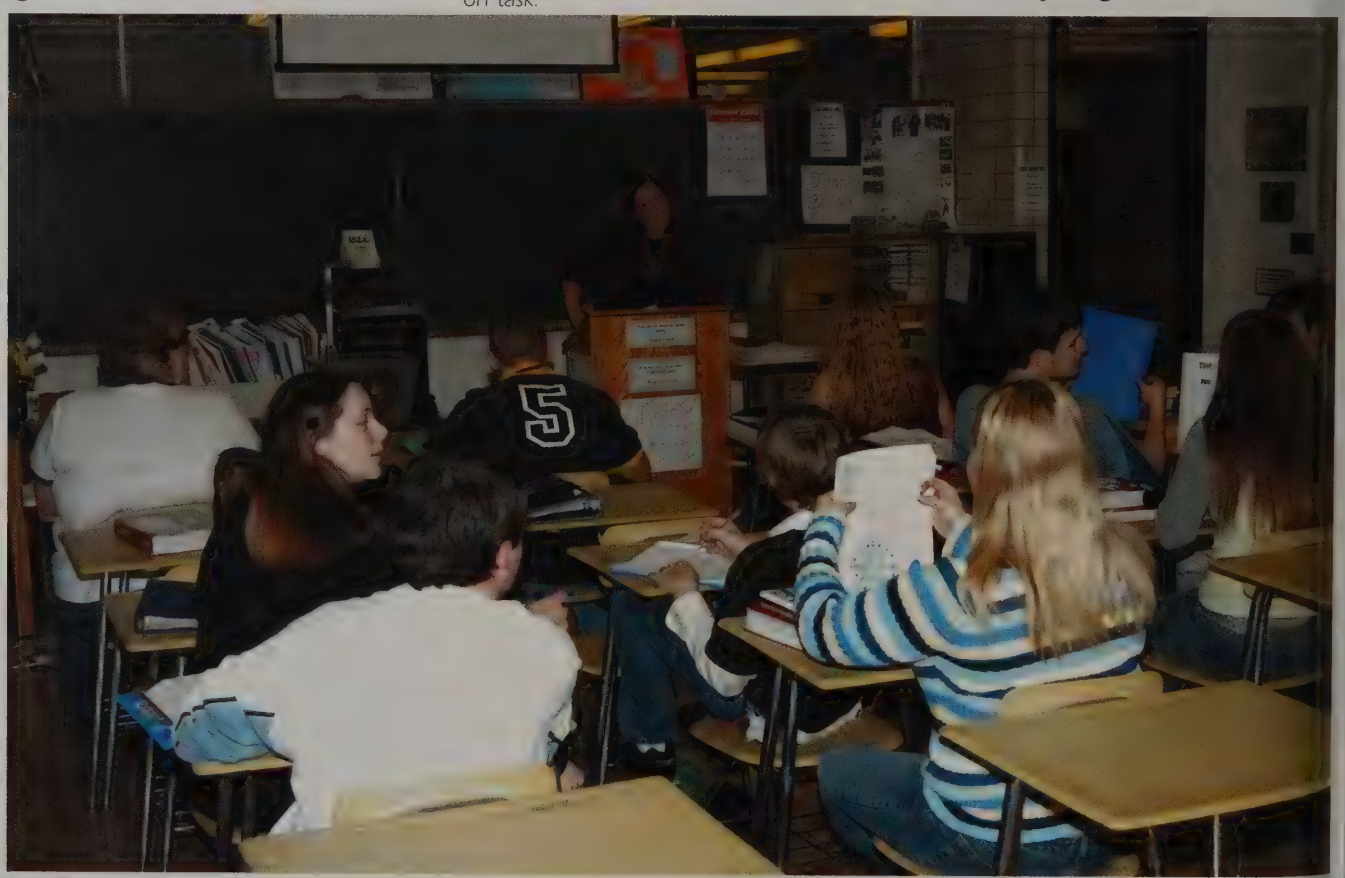
"I screamed and Mrs. Coffel and Mr. Bogart were laughing so hard that they cried." Mrs. Fisher said, "I felt bad for the student, but he caught me off guard."

After the ruckus, Mrs. Jade Kayser came out into the hallway to see what was going on.

"She was actually mad that she missed out on seeing what happened," explained Mrs. Fisher.

The hallway was pretty empty during the incident so not many students were able to witness it. The ones who did, gave Mrs. Fisher some weird looks. Some say that now Mrs. Fisher is a little more cautious of where she stands in the hallway.

-Bethany Anglin



Miss Suzanne Reifschneider's students are intrigued while she is teaching them. This is Miss Reifschneider's first year at MHS. When asked how her first year of teaching has been, Miss Reifschneider replied, "The students were great, and everyone was so helpful."

Zachary Persun (Jr) and Tanner Borsodi (Jr) sit attentively in Mrs. Laurie Coffel's fun first block English class. Tanner said, " I had a lot of fun in Mrs. Coffel's class playing The Huck Finn Survivor game."

Brandon Lentine (Fr) and Kristopher Williford (Fr) silently read the newspaper in Mrs. Cindy Fisher's English class. "I don't really like English, but Mrs. Fisher is awesome!" exclaimed Kristopher.

Why is the alphabet in that order?

"I like to think that the letters themselves wanted it that way."

- Nick Kincses (Sr)

"Because the alphabet song wouldn't sound right any other way."

- Kaileigh White (Sr)

"So when the police pull you over, you have something to say backwards."

- Jenna Schirf (So)

"So when Michael Jackson sings, 'ABC... Easy as 1-2-3...' it would rhyme."

- Abby Emmons (Jr)

Informing the public

Mrs. Terry Snell is an English teacher here at Mishawaka High School, who is also in charge of the Alltold, the school newspaper. Mrs. Snell has been teaching publications for 32 years, 26 which were here in Mishawaka.

"It all began with my first teaching interview at 21 years of age when I was asked if I would sponsor the newspaper and yearbook. I had no idea how to do it, but I said yes because I had only $7.00 left in my checking account and needed a job," explained Mrs. Snell. Throughout her many years of teaching, Mrs. Snell acquired many fond memories.

This year the Alltold staff took a field trip to Notre Dame for a reporting seminar, a workshop for newspaper reporters. The field trip definitely did not turn out as planned.

Mrs. Terry Snell is passing back assignments to one of her English classes. Being both an English teacher and the Alltold sponsor, Mrs. Snell is very busy. One of her Alltold students, Tim Johnson (Sr), said, "She does a great job."

"At first the bus started making this 'brrrrrrrrrr' sound and then it started slowing down and not accelerating at all. By the time we reached the parking lot, we were coasting," explained Jeremy Lacey (Jr).

After the bus stopped it would not start back up again, so the Alltold staff was stranded in a hospital parking lot in South Bend. The staff got out of the bus and waited in the parking lot for another bus to pick them up. While they were waiting, they ate some donuts. About fifteen minutes later, another bus arrived to pick them up, and their bus was towed away.

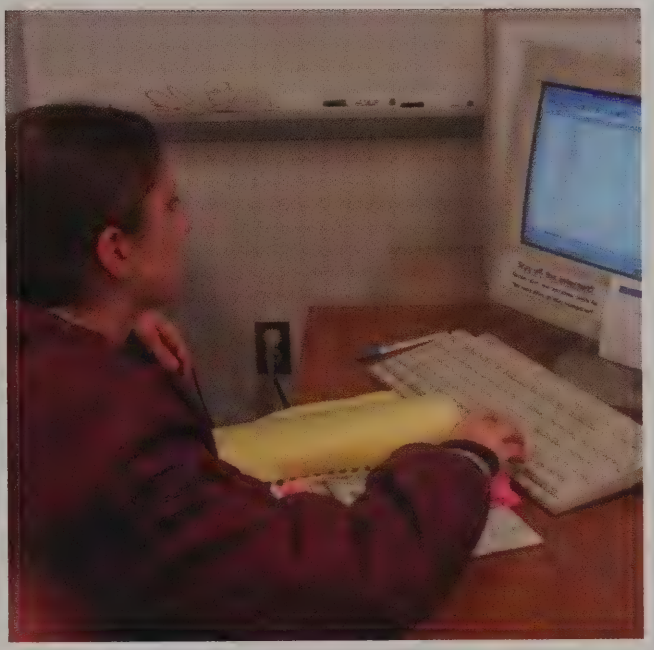
"We were all laughing pretty hard. It was a fun time," said Jason Wertz (Sr).

- Bethany Anglin

Timothy Johnson (Sr) and Jeremy Lacey (Jr) work on the Alltold web page in the Miskodeed classroom. The Alltold and Miskodeed staffs often help each other out. Jeremy, a member of both staffs, said, "We share computers a lot and everyone gets along."

The yearbook staff advertises for this year's all-color yearbook on the front loading dock doors. Many other doors and windows were painted. "It was a lot of fun painting the windows by Mr. Paul Modlin's classroom, because the whole class was watching us instead of doing their work," stated Kearsten Casey (Sr).

Lindsay Myers (Sr) works diligently on ad sales during Miskodeed. Every year each member of the yearbook staff is required to sell $600 in ads. "Selling ads is the hardest part of being on the yearbook staff. After that part is over, we have a lot of fun!" Lindsay explained.



"Why would someone arrest a mime, what did they ever do to anyone?!"

- Patrick Gnass (Jr)

"No they say, 'You have the right to remain still.'"

- Kelly Stafford (Fr)

"No, they beat him with a stick. I saw it on Reno 911 before."

- Kasey Eiler (So)

"Yes, mimes still talk."

- Paris Shelley (Fr)

If the police arrest a mime, do they tell him he has the right to remain silent?

Exchanging Ways

Throughout the past few years at Mishawaka High School, many teachers have come and gone. Mr. Kenny Jankowski is the new German teacher, replacing Mr. Jack Hellenbrand. Mr. Jankowski was an administrator at Edwardsburg High School for many years, but decided he wanted to actually teach students in the classroom.

Although Mr. Jankowski has only been teaching at Mishawaka for a year, many students look up to him. Mr. Jankowski is a firm believer in doing your best and excelling. One of his famous quotes, used by many students, is "Don't tell me what you can do, show me." Not only is Mr. Jankowski a teacher, he also coaches the girls' basketball team. His quote applies to classroom work, along with coaching. Every day is an exciting day in Mr. Jankowski's German class; never boring.

Jason Plummer (Sr) reads along with his classmates while Spanish teacher Mrs. Anita Hosinski instructs. "Spanish is difficult, but I'm glad it's my final year."

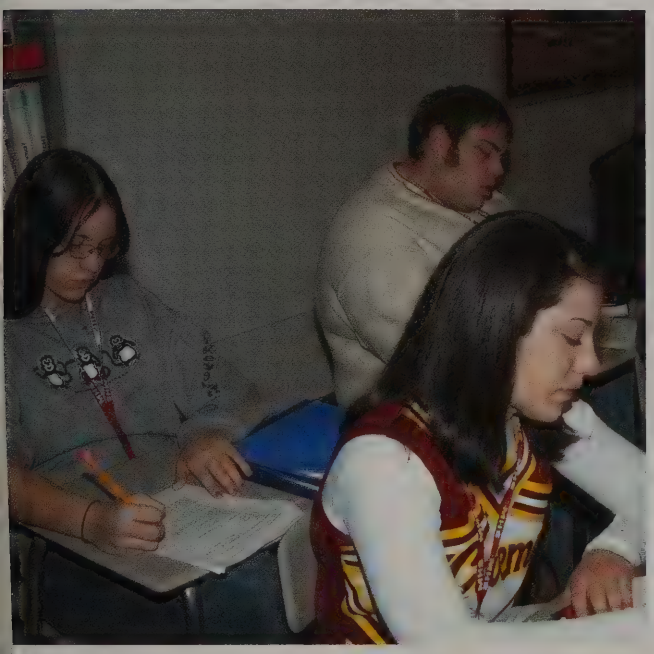
Ashley Smith (Sr) said, "Instead of lecturing all class or just assigning book work, Mr. Jankowski makes learning fun." The beginning German classes made dream homes, labeled in German, and the advanced German class created German children books.

Mr. Jankowski is an inspiration to many Mishawaka students. When students are asked about Mr. Jankowski, he is praised. Ryan Wertz (Sr) said, "Mr. Jankowski is regarded as a great coach, superb teacher, and a cool person."

-Brittany O'Reilly

Elise Brownbridge (Sr), Emily Lauver (Sr), Allison Reynolds (Jr), and Melissa Plonski (Sr) are in Mrs. Susan Kertes' advanced French class. Elise said, "We were working on a group assignment for our French project."

Krista Thomas (Jr), Aaron Heimbecher (Sr), and Ashley Smith (Sr) work on an in class assignment for advance German. Aaron said, "This is a difficult class for me to understand, but I like the teacher."



Mr. Kenny Jankowski instructs one of his three German classes. Bethany Anglin (Sr) said, "German is my favorite class because Herr J is awesome!"

Discovering the World

Mr. William Niemann has been teaching economics and government for 38 years. Over the years, Mr. Niemann has had his share of funny moments.

"One of my students was talking animately during afternoon announcements and I told her if she didn't control herself that something bad would happen to her, then she fell out of her seat. The entire class was laughing."

"One year, during the second semester final exam, there was a mouse running around the room. The students couldn't stop paying attention to the mouse. After the exam, they captured it in a small box and let it go out of the window."

"This year, David Trapp (Sr) and I arm wrestled. I let him win of course."

Mr. Niemann takes a second to pose with Ashley Smith (Sr). "One of my favorite things about teaching is the teacher-student interaction," Mr. Niemann said.

Mr. Niemann said he never really wanted to be a teacher. "It was more of a process of elimination. I knew that I didn't want to work in a factory so I thought I might like to teach economics and government because I believe that is a part of everyone's life."

Seniors Andrew VanDeputte and David Trapp can do some pretty good impressions of Mr. Niemann. "One thing Mr. Niemann always says is , 'Don't push me kid,' " said David.

Andrew said, " 'Ah, all right sir' or he calls people by their last name. 'Ta Ta Ta' is another thing he says all the time."

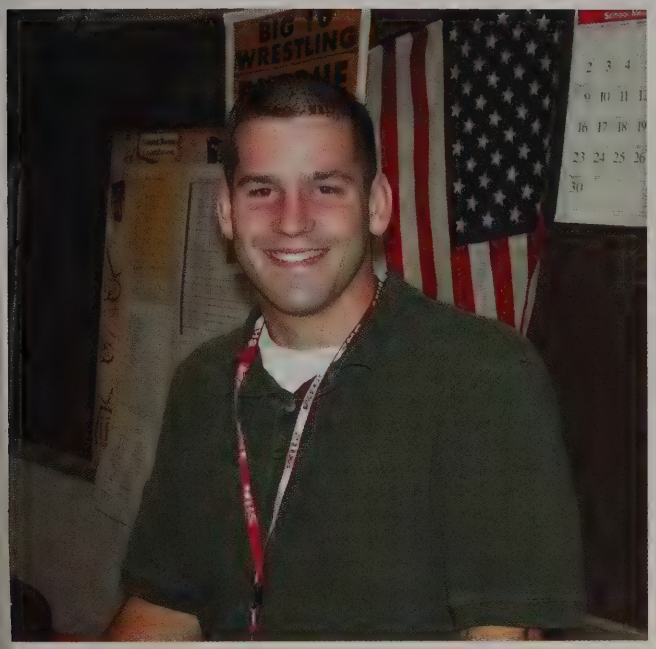
Sean Moran (So) and Heather Snowden (So) are reveiwing in groups for a geography test in Ms. Lori Kitkowski's class. "Ms. Kitkowski usually plays a reveiw game before each test, " said Sean.

Mr. Darrick Synder takes a break from grading papers. A favorite quote of his is "Anticipation leads to a better education."



Clayton Helenburg (So) asks Ms. Kitkowski for help in her geography class. Clay said, "I took Mrs. K's class because it looked like a lot of fun to work with her."

Making it Count

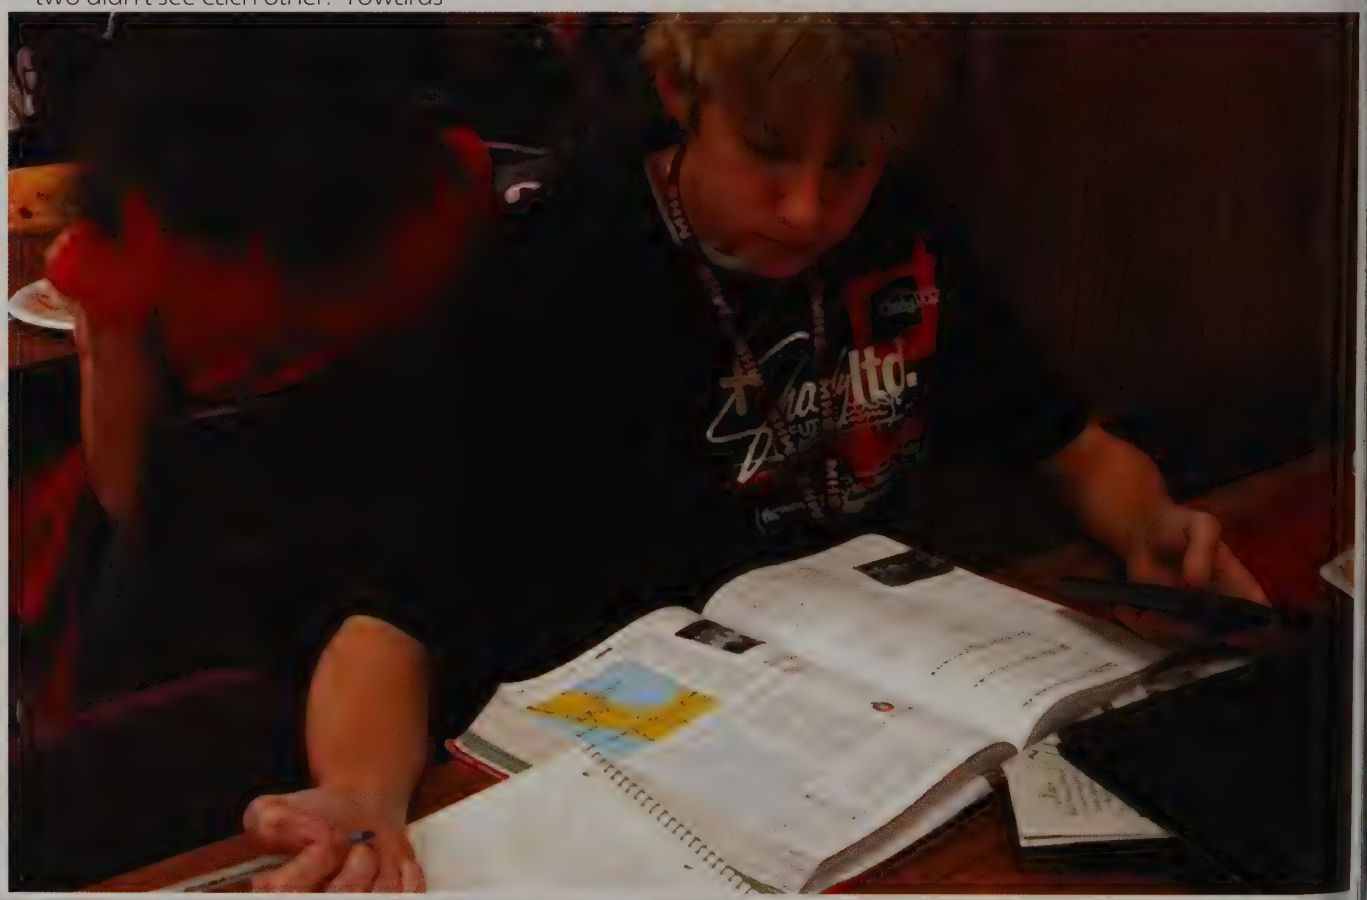
Math teachers work hard everyday to try and make math count to the students. Sometimes the teachers try to make math count to students too much.

One morning, Mr. Joe Sierzputowski was outside his room, where he usually stands before class. A young lady, who Mr. Sierzputowski presumed was a student teacher, approached him. Being the courteous teacher he is, he politely asked if she would like a cup of coffee. They went to the math office, and he got her a cup of coffee. They chatted for a little while, and then Mr. Sierzputowski had to get back to class. "I just wanted a cup of coffee," said the student who shall remain nameless. The day went by and the two didn't see each other. Towards the end of the day, Mr. Sierzputowski went into Mr. Jack Hildreth's room to talk, and he discovered the young lady sitting at a student's desk. He realized that she had books for each class, and that the girl was actually a student at the high school! He let a student drink some of his coffee. "I had no idea that she was a student!" said Mr. Sierzputowski.

Math teacher, Mr. Joe Szajko, teaches his class by using an overhead projector. When asked for a comment about math class, Mr. Szajko said, "I refuse to comment on my math classes."

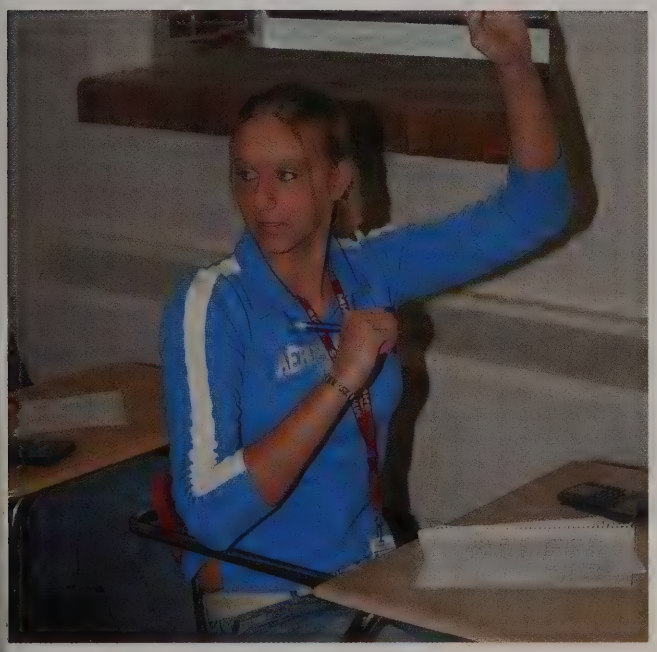
Math does have its funnier moments and most of the math teachers at Mishawaka High School try to lighten the mood in their classes. Many students know that most of the math teachers are some of the funniest teachers in the school. We all may not enjoy taking math classes, but the teachers do a great job of making them fun and enjoyable. "I love math!" said Bethany Anglin (Sr).

-Will Smith



Korey Phelps (Jr) takes a break from eating his lunch in order to finish some of his math homework that is due next block. Korey said, "Math class is fun and it's pretty easy too!"

Tiffany Cole (Fr) raises her hand to ask her math teacher a question about homework. Tiffany said, "Math is fun, but tough at times."



Mr. Tom Urbanski and Mr. John Himschoot use their own time to help a student with his work. Mr. Urbanski said, "I enjoy teaching math."

Creating Experiments

Mr. John Barker has been teaching at Mishawaka High School for over 20 years now. Many students come to find out that their parents had Mr. Barker for a teacher as well. Currently, Mr. Barker teaches the general and advanced first year biology courses. In the past he has also taught the second year honors biology course. Any student who is asked about Mr. Barker and his class says he is "easy-going and fun".

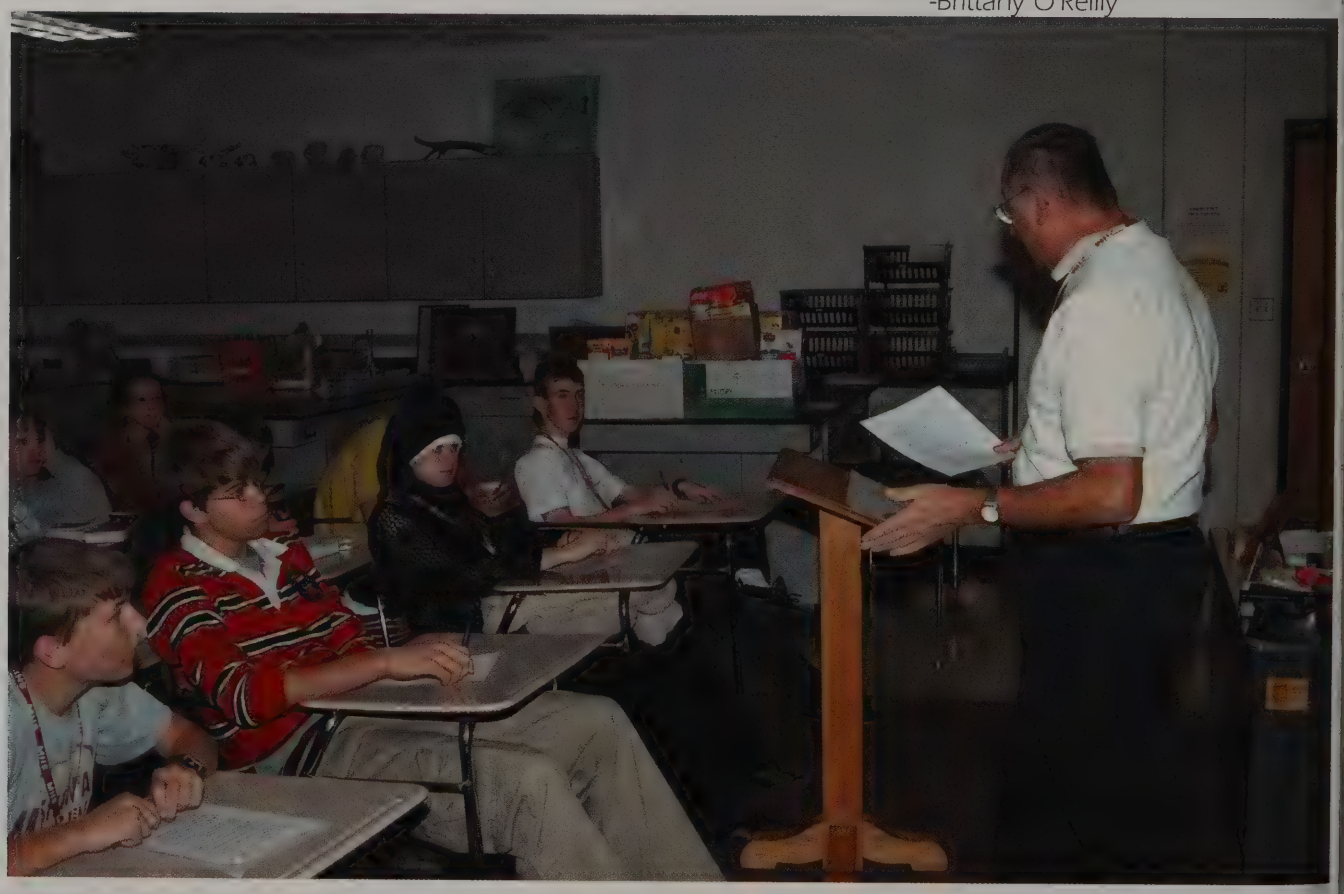
Since Mr. Barker has been teaching at Mishawaka for quite awhile, one could assume he has many fond memories of his students. Every second year biology class is required to dissect a small shark and take a test over its internal and external organs. A few years back, while Mr. Barker taught this class, he talked about an amusing moment during the shark dissection. "A student went to open up the shark container, and all the sharks fell out on them." Needless to say, the student decided never to open the shark container again.

Mr. Barker said, "I am preparing to show freshmen students how to properly use the lab equipment."

Taylor Adams (Sr) remembers the class from her freshman year, but said she "disliked the class because I had to touch crawdad parts, and tape their eyes to paper for a project." Every freshman biology class is required to perform dissections of frogs, crawdads, and earthworms.

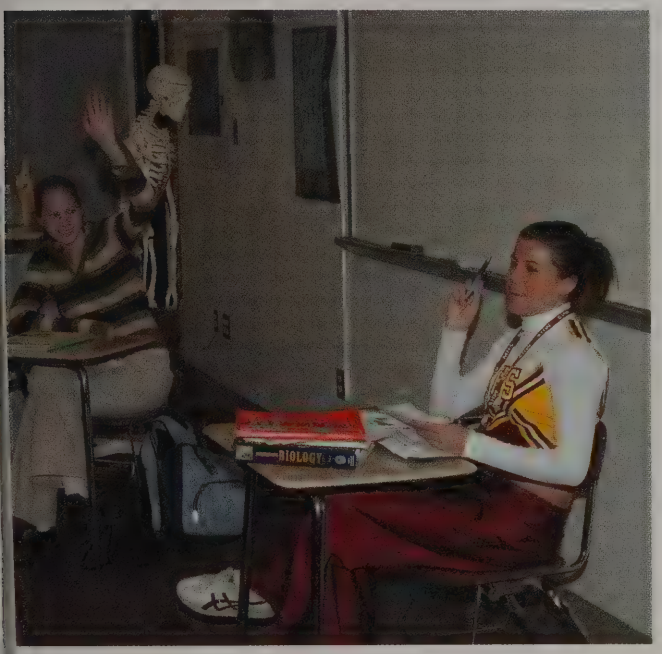
Majoring in biology, Mr. Barker received his Bachelors degree from Ball State University and his Masters degree from Indiana University.

-Brittany O'Reilly



Students listen intently while Mr. John Manuszak teaches one of his many first year biology courses. Mr. Manuszak said "I enjoy teaching because I love to help students excel and do their best."

Erin Koczan (Jr) and Heather Curtis (Sr) said they, "Enjoy the group discussions in Mr. Jack Hildreth's biology class."s



David Weist (So) is taking an earth science test that he studied very hard for the night before. He said, "Give it your all because you only live once."

Processing for Success

Mrs. Colleen Robison has been teaching for four years at Mishawaka High School. There are many classes that she teaches here at MHS. Some of the classes she teaches are marketing I and II, computer applications I and II,and keyboarding.

During her free time she enjoys camping, reading, cooking and road trips. Her absolute favorite snack is coffee and potato chips. During her time here at MHS, she has had a few funny times, but the one that she recalls quite well was the time when she saw a young male student throw something down the hall. The humor in this is that when she tried to get the student's name he told her that he did not have one. Then when she looked for his ID card he did not have one, so she asked him for it. He told her that he did not have that either. Then, out of nc where, he took off running dow the hall. He must have thought tha she would not chase him, but h was mistaken. Mrs. Robison chase the young boy all the way from Mr Swinford's room to Mrs. Gill's roor

There are always things that leav a lasting memory on people. Th young man left a lasting impressio on a business teacher here at MH Mrs. Robison. There are a lot of kic that know Robison, but one studer knows her well. "She is a very nic teacher," said Shelby Morrow (Jr).

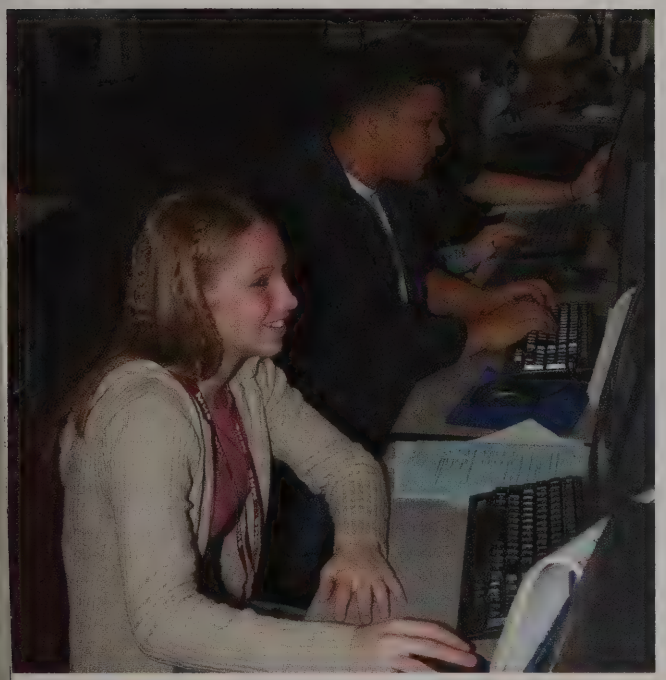
-Sara Kealy

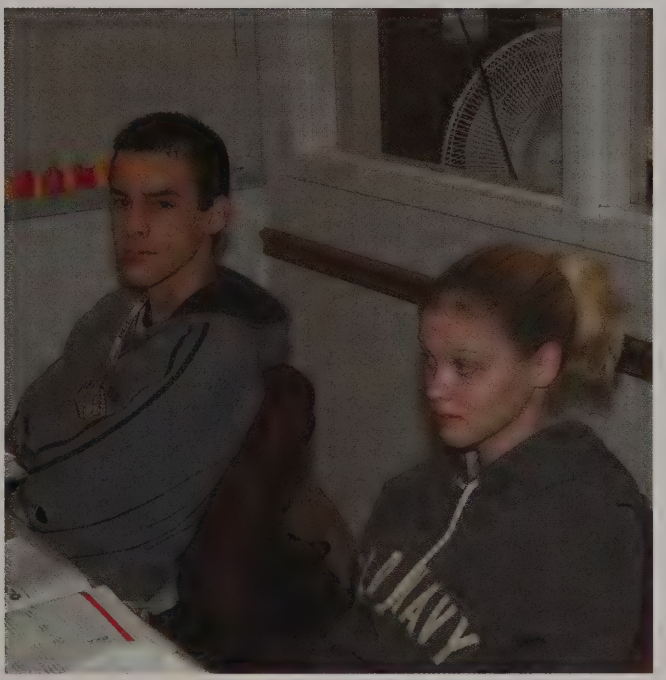
Mrs. Colleen Robison, Mary Jo Peebles (Jr), and Elizabeth Sears (Jr) have a lot of fun in computer applications class. "We were laughing about this picture," said Mrs. Robison.

Christopher Taylor (Fr) and Matthew Mather (Fr) enjoy being in computer class togethe "We can help each other out being in her together," said Chris.

In her keyboarding class Brittany Pagotis (Fr) said, "I like this class a lot. It is a fun class because I am good at it."

"We take this class very seriously. Sometimes there are things that get us stumped," said Shane Hutter (Jr) and Kim Bonney (Sr).





" Hmmm... this is a stumper."

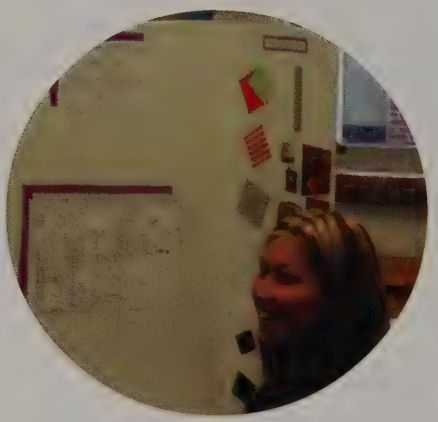
Living Life

Mrs. Nancy Smith's been apart of Mishawaka High School for many years. She teaches adult roles, keyboarding, and human development. Senior, Claire DeVreese said that, "in adult roles class we did a cool interior design project."

The class took the floor plan of the building trades house and made it the way that they would like it. Claire said, "The class is fun and the projects are what I like to do instead of taking notes or reading a book." Many of the projects done in Mrs. Smith's class are displayed around the school in various places. Mrs. Smith says, "I have seen a lot of things at this school and many different kinds of students in my classes."

In the pro start classes students do a lot of different kinds of projects. When Mr. John Manuszak was raising money and promoting the food drive, and Mrs. Julie Crimmins had the pro start classes raise money. They did this or raised money by having a chili cook off and selling it. Senior Anna Bischoff said, "It was good to be able to do something for someone else." The chili was good and it made money for a good cause."



In Mrs. Smith's interior design class senoir Claire Devreese (Sr) shows her project with a smile. She said, "We made floor plans for the building trades house, it was a fun project, even though the floor plans are not really used."

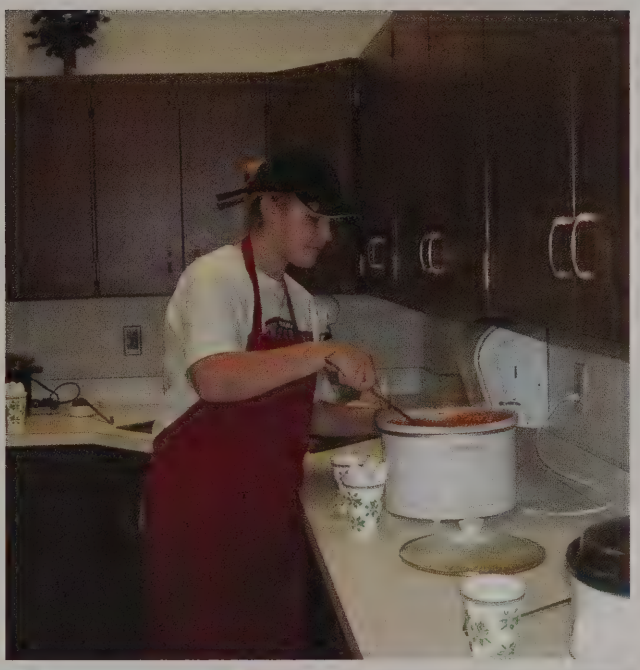
Family and consumer science classes are good coures to take. They help you learn about what life is really like. "I think the classes are good to have because you learn a lot and can at some point, use it in everyday life," said Jaron Tuttle(Sr). He is in Mrs. Crimmins' pro start class. "We get to cook full meals and then eat them," said Anna.

-Taylor Adams

Rebecca Wright (Fr), Mrs. Marilyn Havens, and Julia Smith (Fr) are cooking chocolate covered pretzels. Julia said, "I took foods class because I had no other class to take, but it turned out to be fun."

Raymond Oritz (So), Aaron Wonderly (So), and Jimmy Joachim (Jr) are ready to cook in foods class. Aaron said, "I took foods class to learn about nutritious foods and how to cook them."

Senior, Anna Bischoff is cooking chili for the chili cook off, in pro-start class. Anna said, "I took the class because you get to eat what you make, and I enjoy cooking."



"The other two won't need any bread."

—Alyssa Badman (Jr)

"So you can give the other two hot dogs to the dog."

—Catherine Alkire (Jr)

Why do hot dogs come ten to a package and hot dog buns only come eight to a package?

Working on it

Pre-Vocational class is one that prepares students for the workplace. This class allows the students the opportunity to begin work while they are in high school, and takes the students on field trips to different places.

"During one field trip the class took the city bus to the library. The students were ready to return to school, so they went outside to wait for the bus. It turned out they had been running late and missed the bus. The class had to wait outside, in the rain, for the bus to return. When the students finally got on the bus, their clothes were drenched," recalled Mrs. Jennifer Mammolenti.

Some students spend time in the pre-vocational classroom while others take regular classes. The students take classes such as math, English, and some family and consumer science classes.

Brandon Gordon (So) works on a social skills activity with a few of his friends. Brandon said, "I enjoyed taking field trips like going to the rnall and certain restaurants such as the Grand Empire."

"During one of the foods class, some pre-vocational students were preparing to cook their assigned food. They started to cook by getting out all materials they needed. They were all prepared to start cooking, but then discovered that the eggs, salad, and other items were still frozen. Come to find out, they had been in Mrs. Mammolenti's car on a very cold day," recalled Sara Wurz (Sr).

It seems to be that most of the students in the pre-vocational class enjoy their time. Brandon Gordon (So) said, "I love working with the teachers, and the students are very fun to work with too." The students seem to be ready to begin work, and some already have.

-Will Smith

Matthew Canoot (Fr), Ashley O'Banion (So), Sarah Preston (Sr), Leah Cowsert (Jr), and Joshua Weinkanf work together on a social skills activity for their pre-vocational class. Leah stated, "I think the kids in this class are very good workers, and I enjoy working with all of them."

Edward Rondot (Sr) plays with a basketball in the pre-vocational room. "I enjoy playing with my ball and eating french fries."

Sara Wurz (Sr) colors a Christmas sheet that she had been working on. Sara said, "I like the teachers and working with people."

" Because no one in their right mind would work for free."

—Lillian Brennan (Sr)

" Who ever said work is terrific?"

—Matt Oakley (Sr)

" If school is so terrific, why don't they pay us to come?"

—Amanda Groendyke (Jr)

" The money is what makes it terrific!"

—Hannah Leniski (Sr)

If work is so terrific, how come they have to pay you to do it?

Creating A Masterpiece

The Mishawaka High School Art Department welcomed a new teacher this year. Miss Sandra Hubbard. This is her first year teaching intro to 2-D art.

"In high school I wanted to be a veterinarian. I went on a campus visit to Mighican State University, when my campus tour guide fell backwards down some stairs. It was so funny. I decided that MSU was not for me. I became an art techer because I believe that art is important, and it shows emotional growth. I thought that maybe I could help keep art a part of our community."

Being a first year teacher, Miss Hubbard has not had very many funny experiences in class. One funny thing she remembers from this year is:
when the students did charcoal pastel drawings. "They would have char coal all over their faces;
they looked like coal miners."

Corey Gregory (Jr) gets some help from Miss Hubbard in Intro to 2-D Art class. "Miss Hubbard is a good teacher because she teaches me new drawing techniques. I really learn from her."

Miss Hubbard likes to interact with the students. "I really like teaching the charcoal pastels because I love to see them get all messy."

"One thing I love about teaching is watching students express themselves through art. I like it when they show their creativity in different ways."

Corey Gregory (Jr) is one of Miss Hubbard's students this year. Corey said, "I like the way Miss Hubbard teaches because she actually helps me instead of doing it for me."

Miss Hubbard enjoyed her first year of teaching here at Mishawaka High School. She hopes to stay here as long as she is wanted.

Sarah Davis (So) digs into a bin of clay. Students had to find good, wet clay to make projects in ceramics class. All Sarah had to say about the wet clay was, "gooey!"

Alicia Ashburn (Sr) is in the first step of devolping film. "I've always wanted to take photography, but I had to wait until my senior year to do it, and now I'm glad I finally got the chance."

Jerimiah Vena (Sr) works on a coil pot in Mr. Mike Buchmann's ceramics class. "Mr. Buchmann is the type of teacher who loves what he does and makes the class a lot of fun."

"Who seriously wants to go through that much work and mix paints?"

—Elliott Sienicki (Jr)

If you can mix two colors of paint to make other colors, why do people bother to buy other colors?

Working Industrially

Engineering class with Mr. Paul Modlin is heard to be a great experience for people who like math and hands on learning. The class said that they have tons of inside jokes while they are working.

One time in class they decided to make a test run on the car, in the school parking lot. Senior, Timothy Johnson was the driver. Of course it was a bad idea because things got totally out of control.

Timothy got a little excited and lost control of the car. "Timothy went flying across the parking lot and Mr. Modlin went chasing after him," said Michael Matson (Sr) while laughing. The horror that ran through Mr. Modlin's mind must have been horrible. Mishaps happen when you are not careful Benjamin Modlin (Sr) said, "Yeah, we don't let Timothy drive the car anymore." They all joke with Timothy about his crazy driving, even Mr. Modlin teases him.

Daisy Winkler (Jr) and Benjamin Modlin(Sr) are drilling away. Benjamin said, "A lot goes in to the race car we are building and everything has to be right."

Benjamin is Mr. Modlin's nephew and they have an on going joke about how neither one of them claim each other. "Engineering is a hard class, but it has had it's fun moments," said Mike.

Everyone has to work together and communicate well, otherwise nothing will ever get done. "Mr. Modlin makes it easier to get along in class by being so easy going with everything else," added Timothy.

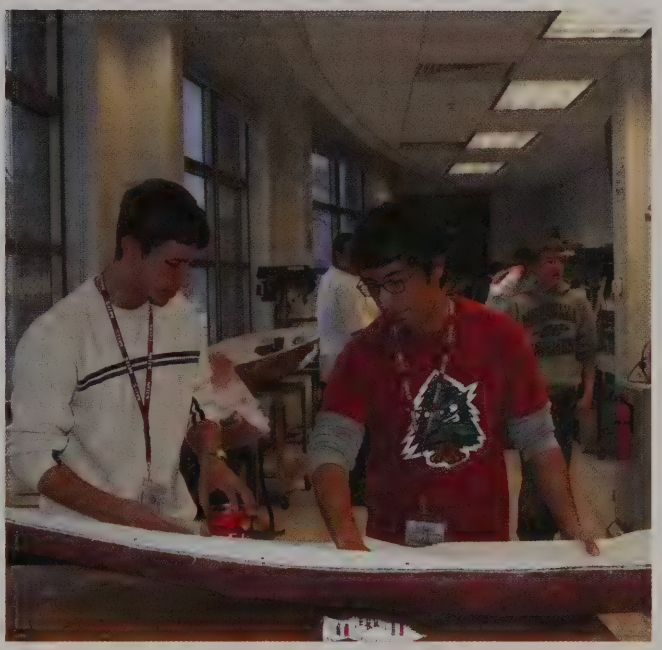
This year the engineering class worked hard and made tons of improvement from last year. Since Benjamin is a senoir, he said, "I am going to miss my uncle and this class."

- Taylor Adams

Clinton Catt (Sr) Brittany Tepe(Sr), and Jesse Haines (Jr) are working hard. Brittany said, "I am cutting heavy duty clavier, which is used for the outer casing of our race car."

Sanding away is Senior Benjamin Modlin. He is working on the outer shell of the racing car. " I enjoy engineering and will miss the class."

Seniors Jason Wertz and Bernard Fraga are checking to make sure everything is smooth. "You have to make sure the surface is smooth and even, otherwise it won't work," said Bernard.



Can you get cornered in a round room?

"Yes, but only if you have three eyes so that you can cross them to see the corner."

—Alex Nash (Jr)

"Only if you have more than two people following you."

—Andrew Farmer (So)

"Maybe you should ask a geometry teacher!"

—Andrea Tolliver (Jr)

"No, but you can keep a blonde busy for hours trying to find the corner."

—Alice Wilson (Sr)

Building a House

In building trades, the students have a lot of fun with Mr. David Chimel. He jokes and has fun working with his students. In the class the students build a house, this year it is in Reverewood.

Matthew Zillman (Sr) said, "He makes the funniest noises when he is working, they are like grunting noises." He also has other weird sayings like, " A man can wear out a good pair of shoes, just follow me around."

Besides Mr. Chimel's funny sayings, he teaches his students how to properly use tools. Senior Jeffery Vance is one of the inside jokes that Mr. Chimel has with his class. One day Jeffery had Mr. Chimel's truck at the paint shop. He was getting paint for class.

As he was getting ready to leave the store, Mr. Chimel's truck got hit. Now he is constantly making fun of Jeffery.

Senior Cari Eller gets paint on her jeans, while painting the finished bedroom in the building trades house. She said, "Not many girls are in building trades, but I am glad I tried it."

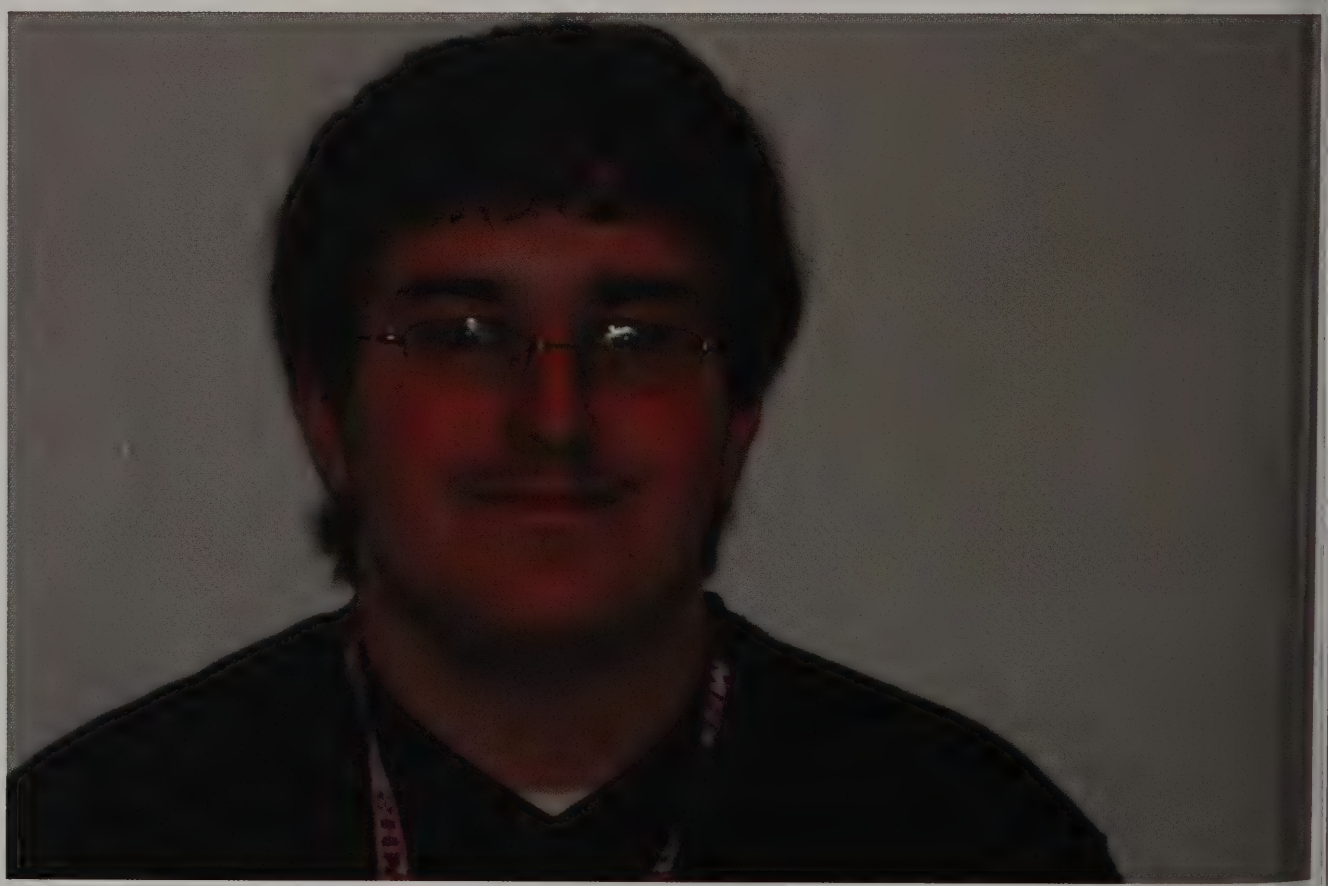
Jeffery said, "He isn't ever going to let me live that one down.

Senior Travis Burks said, "I am going to miss this class, it was one of the best parts of high school." He has taken building trades class for two years and enjoys working with tools a lot. "Mr. Chimel is a great teacher and I won't forget the fun times in building trades class," said Travis.

Being able to have a learning experience that is different from a normal class setting is usually a good way for people to learn.

Jeffery said, "I would rather work with my hands than sit in a desk and read."

-Taylor Adams



Senior Matthew Zilliman is putting mud on the ceiling of the building trades house. The students have been working on the house since the beginning of the school year and plan to finish by the end of the school year. Matthew said, "People say building trades is hard work, but it's really not.

Making sure that the walls are stable is senior Jeffery Vance. Jeffery has a tip for anyone who is building something, "Make sure that you always hit the nail on its head."

Travis Burks (Sr) is laying out the tiles for the bathroom floor. He said, "Always do the very best possible job you can, you need to give 110% in whatever you are doing."

Why are they called buildings when they are already finished?

"Because Legos thinks weirdly, and legos invented buildings."

—Chelsea Saucer (Fr)

"Because people are building careers inside of them."

—Jaclyn Davis (So)

"Because no one wants to call them builts it sounds funny."

—Elizabeth Sears (Jr)

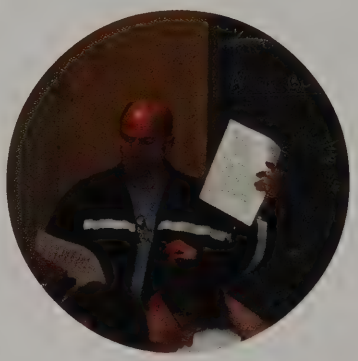
"Because you have to call them something while they are being built and it takes so long to build them that after all that time its a shame to change their name.

—Nicolas Cook (Sr)

Slimming Down

Mr. Bill Roggeman has been a teacher for 21 years. He has been a teacher at Mishawaka High School for five years. He teaches gym, weights, and health classes. He is known in his classes for being funny and having a great sense of humor. Since he has been at MHS he has had a lot of funny things happen to him.

One thing in particular that Mr. Roggeman remembers was when he first began teaching at St. Joseph High School. He was teaching a P.E. class that was held in the weights room. He was trying to show the kids how to use the new weight room equipment. One new piece of equipment was a squat machine. He got under the bar and as he bent his knees and lowered his weight he split his pants. He ripped them from top to bottom right up the seam of his backside. He said, "It was both hilarious and embarrassing."



Mr. Bill Roggeman hands out tests for his health class. "This is very serious, no cheating or talking during the test," said Mr. Roggeman.

On top of all that there are a few students that have funny memories of Mr. Roggeman while he was teaching his classes. One memory was from Alyssa Badman (Jr). She said, "During the morning announcements he sings along and aloud with the song and he dances too." Alyssa also said, "He loves the Beatles."

Another story is from Nicole Annis (Fr). She said, "He was going around the net and his leg got caught in it." Mr. Roggeman does a lot of funny things here at MHS.

-Sara Kealy

Lonnie Barnes (So) is testing out the new equipment in the new fitness center. "I really like to build muscles," said Lonnie.

Kalynn Bryan (Fr) and Kelsie Youts (Fr) work hard while they still have fun jogging. "This is one of mine and Kaylynn's favorite classes," said Kelsie.

Lauren Smith (Fr) Enjoys doing weights and working out in her P.E. class. "Some kids don't like P.E. class, but I think it is a lot of fun," said Lauren.

Where does weight go when people lose it?

"You don't know because you lost it ."

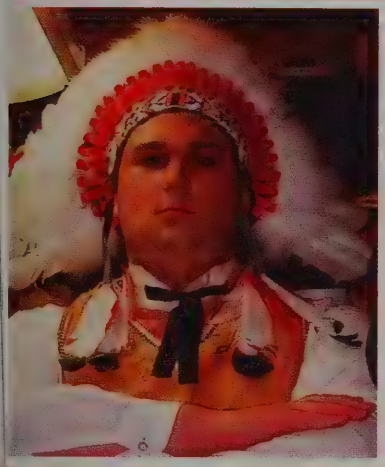
Organizations



STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council- [illegible]

Bradley Wisler has been involved in Student Council for all four years. This year he is the President and has accomplished many of the goals he has set for himself and the Council. He said, "This year has been a huge success. It was the first time in four years that we have pulled off a parade, two successful homecomings, a Battle of the Bands, and Class Olympics." There is no doubt about it, he has done his job as the Student Council President and then some. It will be tough to find someone to fill his shoes as next year's Student Council President.

T-Shirts for SALE! Bradley Wisler (Sr), Sarah Dietzel (Jr), and Elise Brownbridge (Sr) sit in the commons during semniar to sell Class Olympic t-shirts for the different classes. The event brings the student body and faculty together to compete to see which class is the best.

NHS JUNIORS AND SENIORS

Kristin Hutson is involved in the Fellowship of Christian Students. The group was just put together last year and has been a huge success. Mr. Don Henricks is the sponsor for the group and they meet every Tuesday morning. They have Bible discussions in the early mornings and sometimes have a guest speaker to go along with it. Kristin said, "I enjoy the group alot and have met many different people and have made many new friends." Kristin, being a senior, has set a very good example for the underclassmen that are in the group.

Bible Study! Laura Amacher (Sr), Kristin Hutson (Sr) Brandon Addison (So) Bryant Lehmen (Sr) and Hope Grame (Jr) gather around for a group Bible discussion on an early Tuesday morning. Although the group meets so early in the morning, it doesn't stop any of the members from attending every meeting.

CAVEMEN CARE

Tara Beck signed up for Cavemen Care saying "I know that I love to help people and that this was an opportunity I couldn't pass up." Tara has been involved in Cavemen Care for three years now and plans to stay involved her senior year as well. As a Junior, she is the President of Cavemen Care. Her favorite activity they completed this year was the Easter bags that were made for the kids at the Homeless Shelter and the Safe Station. She looks forward to her last year as a Cavemen Care member and the penny war they have planned for next year between Happy Easter! Tara Beck (Jr) and Stephanie Marshall(Jr) put together Easter bags for the children at the Homeless Shelter and Safe Station. Each seminar had two weeks to put together an Easter bag for the kids. The Cavemen Care members then collected the bags during seminar to deliver them to the children.

QUIZ BOWL

Bernard Fraga (Sr) has participated on the Quiz Bowl team for four years. This past year he was captain. "I liked being captain and competing against other schools," said Bernard. The Quiz Bowl team's biggest competition this year was against Elkhart Memorial. "They had a better record, but we still beat them," recalled Bernard. Besides having some great wins, the team also had some great people. "It was interesting to see all the different types of people that came out for Quiz Bowl," said Bernard. Being a senior, Bernard won't be returning to the team, but hopes that the other members will.

Think fast! Mia Trimboli (Jr) and Stephanie Marshall (Jr) consult each other in the 60 second round of the varsity match. "My favorite part of Quiz Bowl is the team. Everyone is really nice," said Mia.

SPELL BOWL

The Spell Bowl team had an outstanding year. After obtaining a perfect score at the regional competition, they moved on to state. "My favorite part of this year was going down to state," said Alice Wilson (Sr). Alice has been the captain of the Spell Bowl team for three years. "This is the first time Mishawaka has made it down to state in a long time," said Alice. The success surely didn't come without practice. "We practiced four days a week for an hour after school before we made it to state, but when we made it to state, we started practicing five days." Alice said. The team's hard work definetly paid off in the end.

Break time... The Spell Bowl team takes a time out from practicing to go a little crazy. "We practiced quite a bit, so it was nice when we got a break," said Stephanie Marshall (Jr).

Academic Superbowl

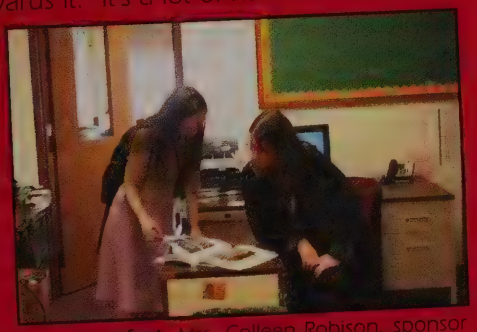
There are six different Academic teams. They include science, math, English, fine arts, social studies, and interdisciplinary Nicholas Sciacca (Jr) is a member the science, and interdisciplinary teams, as well as captain of the math team. "There are three members at a table. We consult and pick the best answer." As captain, it is his responsibility to make the final call on the answer. While they only have one main competition in Laporte, they put much time and effort towards it. "It's a lot of hard work, but it's fun."



Picture perfect. Mrs. Colleen Robison, sponsor of the fine arts academic team helps Daisy Winkler (Jr) out with a question. "Its a neat group of kids," said Mrs. Robison. "They are all really interested in what they are studying."

Science Olympiad

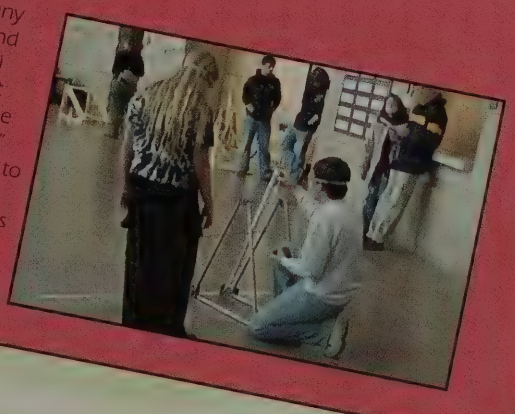
Jesse Haines (Jr) has been a member of the Science Olympiad team since freshman year. During the course of about four to five months, members have to research assigned topics and then actually build the projects. Each member of the team usually does around two to three projects. They have one main competition at the end of the season held at Goshen College. This year they placed fifth out of twelve teams. "We should have a strong team next year too because there weren't any seniors this year," said Jesse. Jesse looks forward to next year, and encourages more people to join.



Blast off! Brittany Waletzko (Jr) and Jesse Haines (Jr) compete against other teams in the "Storm the Castle" project. "We had to build a catapolt," said Brittany. "It was pretty enjoyable."

MILITARY

Michael Matson is a senior here at MHS and has had a life long dream of actively serving in the Marines. "My decision to join the Armed Forces was easy. It is a tradition in my family, my grandfather was in the Army and my father was in the Marines." Michael says that in order to enter the Armed Forces all participants must take the ASFAB intelligence test. Mishawaka High has nine students entering various fields of the Armed Forces, who we wish all the best.

Actively involved. Richard Landells (Jr), Michael Matson (Sr), Mrs. Gale Shalliol, and former MHS military member Anthony Santos, take time out of their discussions to pose for a quick picture. "During our meetings we sometimes have guest speakers visit and tell us about their experiences in the Military," Richard (Jr) says.

BUSINESS PROFESSIONALS

Wayne Drescher (Sr) has joined Business Professionals in order to be more educated for the real world challenges that he may encounter. In Business Professionals students are trained in many skills that will help them succeed in any future career. Wayne states that even though Business Pro's is a serious class there is always time for humorous enjoyment. When asked what his favorite memory was Wayne replied, "Going to the 'Forest' houses and cleaning up the neighborhood and afterwards taking everybody out to eat." The Business Professional class participated often in community involvement and clean-ups.

Punctual professionals. Amy Stone (Sr) and Amanda Stamm (Sr) step aside after school to take a unexpected picture before departing off to work. "In Business Professionals the students are required to obtain and turn in a certain amount of work hours. That is the most irritating aspect of Business Professional," stated Amanda.

SPEECH & DEBATE

Second year high-schooler and new comer to the innovated Speech and Debate team, Allison Gill (So) shows enthusiasm to Mishawka's latest academic activity. The Speech and Debate team is not like any other academic activity. These students do work and research outside of school and home. They spend hours at a time learning and taking in new information, in order to perform well at their competitions. Among the extra studying, there are other requirements that have to be met. "Along with the hard work and dedication, there is also a dress code involved. Guys are required to wear a suit and tie, and the girls have to wear a dress or a skirt", stated Allison.

Debating strategies. Spencer Patterson (So), Andrew Troyer (So) and Jeremy Lacey (Jr) expand their knowledge by reviewing material for their upcoming competition. Andrew told us that his preparation for a competition is easy. "I wake up, have a cup of coffee, fix the hair, put my suit on, and I'm ready to argue. Besides, that is what I do best."

During DECA, individuals compete in competitions and take part in many tasks. Some of which include taking and producing quizzes and tests, role playing for judges, creating projects, etc. Erica Weaver (Sr) is an active member of DECA. "I chose to join DECA because it was something new to participate in and it is a very fun and exciting activity," says Erica. "The motto for the group is to practice what you preach. I take part in many competitions and compete in different areas of marketing. Each member of DECA picks two or three areas of topic and competes in those areas."

Competing to be better. Matthew Boles (Sr) and Roseanna Kovatch (Sr) intensely revise for their future competitions. "Many competitors would study way in advance for their future competitions," Roseanna stated.

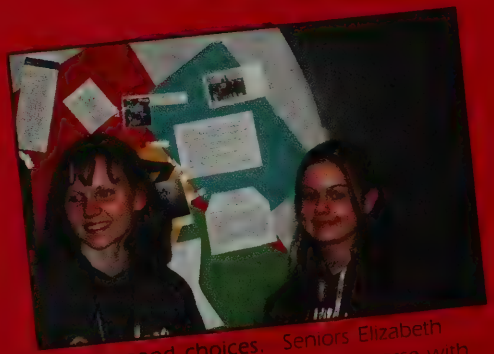
Junior Abby Wiles is a member of SADD. SADD stands for Students Against Destructive Decisions. She has been involved since her sophomore year. SADD sponsers lots of events through the school such as Prom Promise, and Red Ribbon Week. Abby plans on continuing with SADD during her senior year.



Making good choices. Seniors Elizabeth Urban and Elise Brownbridge converse with other members of SADD about Prom Promise. "The whole purpose of SADD is to come up with new ideas to influence students to make smart decisions," said Elise.

PSI

Senior Bradley Wisler is currently in his second year of PSI. PSI stands for Postponing Sexual Involvement. He goes to John Young Middle School about three to four times a semester and teaches students about the program in their the health class. He said, "It is a fun experience, because when teaching, you find out how much youngsters really look up to you." As far as meetings are concerned, he said, "About once a month we go to in services to hear guest speakers."

Lecturing students. Michael Spencer (Jr) and Alicia Ashburn (Sr) are teaching the middle school students what to do if they are recieving pressure to have sex. Alicia Ashburn said, "I think teaching PSI is important because kids learn the reality of sexual decisions that they might make."

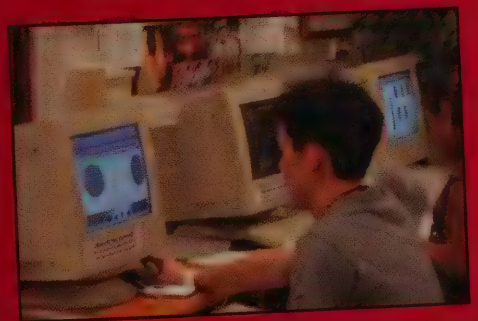
Junior Sineyda Requeno is having a lot of fun in yearbook this year. She has learned many things, such as how to use a digital camera, and create pages with Pagemaker. She said, "I love doing interviews and working hard. I think it is cool that I am creating a book that will be looked back at for many years."



Glued to the computer. Junior Jeremy Lacey is intently working on the index for the yearbook. "Indexing is very time consuming, but when I get into a rhythm the time seems to fly by," stated Jeremy Lacey.

ALLTOLD

Junior Shelby Morrow is enjoying her first year on the Alltold staff. Shelby likes writing stories but she has to prioritize her time in order to meet the deadlines. "Sometimes we can get a better in-depth point of view than other students while writing stories," said Shelby. "The really fun stuff that happens in Alltold is when we sometimes get to leave school to do stories. We also take a Field Trip to Notre Dame for a writing journalism workshop and then go out to lunch," said Shelby. She is planning to continue next year.

Hard at work. Courtney Terry (Sr), Patrick Rader (Sr), Jessica Grove (Sr), Wesely Johnson (So), Jason Wertz (Sr), and Alicia Ashburn (Sr) are all working hard on completing the latest issue of the Alltold. "Being on staff is very fun, but it is also a lot of hard work", said Jessica Grove.

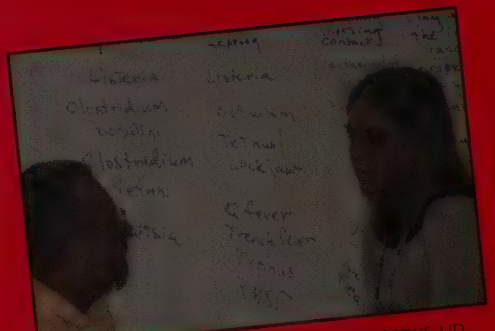
Shelby Morrow is an avid member of the Student Prayer group. She has been a member of this program for two years. They hold meetings at 7:30 on Thursday mornings. Sharing prayer requests is one of the things they do besides group prayer. Shelby said, "My favorite thing about this program is the support and encouragement I receive and the way it starts my day off right."



Sharing prayers. Mr. Manuszak catches up with Shelby Morrow (Jr). When asked why he likes Student Prayer he responded, "I like it because it gives all the students a chance to offer something for the students and the school."

Angela Riskovich is the President of the Japanese Club. This was her second year in it. She likes it because she gets to learn about the culture and even gets to experience it on their field trips. "My favorite thing about being President is that I get to choose the activities that we do." Angela said.

Dancing around. The Japanese club does a Japanese dance during one of their weekly Monday meetings. Junior Katie Kerchner commented on the dance saying, "It was differen; a new experience."

TREE HUGGERS

Tree Huggers- First Row: Mr. Jim Spier, Arielle Morin, Andrea Logan, Stephanie Marshall, Elise Brownbridge, Miranda Baxter.

Senior Arielle Morin is a proud member of Tree Huggers. This was her first year. The Tree Huggers filled bird feeders and were involved in river cleanups. Arielle said, "I like Tree Huggers because I think it is an easy way to help the environment."

Helping out. Elise Brownbridge (Sr) picks up some branches to help clean up the Mishawaka School Ground with her fellow Tree Huggers. She stated, "We try to help maintain a clean environment any way we can and we have to."

WALTONIANS

Junior Stephanie Marshall is one of the two Co-Presidents of Waltonians. She has been a member of this club for the past two years. She said, "I love that I am able to make a difference in my school."

Taking out the trash. Junior Ashley Marczenko emptys out a recycling bin for Waltonians. "I like Waltonians 'cause it's a good way to get involved in your school." Ashley said.

Sara Stephenson (Sr) is the Vice President of Project Teach, an organization in which students get the opportunity to observe teachers. Once every semester, members of Project Teach observe a teacher of their choice for a day and aid them in teaching. Similar to many other Project Teach members, Sara is also a Cadet Teacher. Every other day, Sara teaches a fifth grade class at Battell Elementary School. "Mrs. Libby's class is great. I have a lot of fun with my fifth graders," Sara said.

One fish two fish... Stephanie Marshall (Jr) celebrates Dr. Seuss's 100th Birthday along with her first grade class at Twin Branch Elementary School. "My first grade class is crazy, and I have a lot of fun teaching it," explained Stephanie.

STRATFORD

Michael Spoon (So) is a member of Stratford. The Stratford Club attends a Shakespeare festival in Canada, where they watch many plays. Prior to attending the festival, the members of Stratford attend classes about the plays. They read the plays, discuss them, and even keep journals. The cost of the trip is $360. Mrs. Cindy Fisher will be chaperoning the trip this year. Michael eagerly awaits his departure to attend the Shakespeare festival. He said,"I am looking forward to my trip to Stratford. I think it will be a great experience and a lot of fun."

YUM YUM! Tyler Grant (Jr) and Abby Wiles (Jr) enjoy a meal, while in Canada for the Stratford trip. Both Abby and Tyler attended the Stratford trip last year. "The classes and the trip gave me a new appreciation for drama," Tyler stated.

STAGE CREW

Carrie Hans (Sr) is on the MHS Stage Crew. Carrie has been a member since her junior year. "I didn't make Father of the Bride and most of my friends joined Stage Crew, so I did it, too. I have been doing it ever since," explained Carrie. The Stage Crew builds the sets for all of plays. Carrie really enjoys the whole atmosphere of Stage Crew. "I get to spend time with my friends in a cool environment, and we get to use a screw gun!" Carrie exclaimed.

Pump up the volume! During the play, Brandi Smith (Jr) and Arielle Morin (Sr) adjust the sound switchboard on top of the balcony. "It's a difficult job because we constantly have to pay close attention to what is going on down on the stage," Arielle said.

THESPIANS

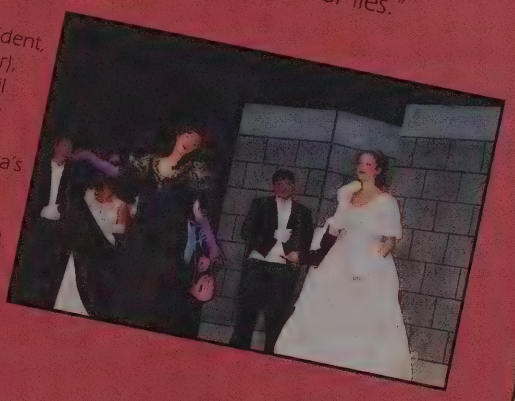
Bryant Lehman (Sr) is a member of Thespians. Thespians is a group of actors, actresses, and stage crew. The Thespians get together once a month, and volunteer in the community. "We've donated toys to children and even done improv at local hospitals," Bryant explained. The Thespians also attend competitions at the regional and state levels. The competitions consist of solos, group musicals, duets, and monologs. When Bryant thinks of Thespians, a Shakespeare quote comes to mind, "Act well your part, for there honor lies."



Working the stage. Thespians Vice President, Renee Woodward (Sr), and President, Abigail Emmons (Jr), play the Stepmother and Cinderella in Mishawaka's play Cinderella. "This role gave me the opportunity to portray a part of my personality that I rarely get to experience," Renee stated.

Ryan McCool has been involved with football for all four years, playing the kicking position for the Cavemen. Now that he is a senior, he said what he will miss the most is, "special team practices on Thursdays because Coach Smith would yell at anyone and everyone." He kept coming back all four years for, "the love of the game and being out on the field among friends." The coaching staff made it a fun experience for the players with varsity dinners every Friday night at someone's house. "My favorite memory of football is when I broke the school record during the Adams game for most field goals in a game." Ryan had a good season and said, "I will miss playing, but I wish everyone good luck next year."

Upper right: For the love of the game. Ryan Taylor (Sr) makes the catch against Riley. He stated, "Last year I made the mistake for not coming out for football but my friends influenced my decision to come back this year, and I love it." Ryan was not the only new face on the field this year other students went out for the team in hopes of getting some playing time.

Lower left: Goin' for the goal. Nick Turrell (So) carries the ball down the field in hopes of scoring another touchdown for the Cavemen. Nick said that some of the things that get him pumped up for the game are "going in the locker room with the lights off, focusing on the game and hearing the people cheering as we run out of the stadium."

Lower right: The smell of victory. Winning with a score of 35 to 0, the Cavemen had an awesome game against Riley. Shawn Maes (Sr) played both defense and offense. "The game against Riley was awesome and I got to make some touchdowns in the running back position," Shawn said.

With a memory that spans four years, Alicia Ashburn has been on the team for her entire Mishawak High School career. "The volleyball program really helped me to develop a good work ethic explained Alicia. Maintaining school work, countless sports, and many more extracurricula activities, Alicia seemingly has written the book on pressure. "If you want to play volleyball here an succeed, you have to be dedicated and work hard all the time." Of course Alicia wasn't alone o her path to the top. "The coaching staff really pushes you hard to make you reach your highe abilities."

Upper left: Bump it. Kathryn Budzinski (So) gets ready to bump the ball back to the other side. The girls had a grueling schedule to compete with this year. One of their toughest competitions was Marian High School. When asked how she felt about beating Marian, Katie said, "So pumped!"

Upper right: Helping out. Junior Varsity volleyball coach John Himschoot shares a high-five with another player. Himschoot was a volunteer coach to Steve Anderson since 1992, "I love helping out, and I love seeing the tradition come to life," says Himschoot. "My favorite part of the season was when I had to buy Slurpees when I lost bets," explained Himschoot.

Lower left: Taking a break. Varsity player, Amber Francis (So), ices her shoulder and discusses team strategies with Jennifer Black (So). So what was the key to their success? "We all tried to play together and work as a team since we were really small," explains Amber. Amber was not the only one throughout the year to suffer an injury. Injuries were quite common but none that an ice pack could not handle.

Lower right: Got it! Kelsey Egyhazi (So) bumps the ball back to the other side. Kelsey and the rest of the girls of Mishawaka's team worked really hard to achieve their NIC status this year. Before their big games, "We all sing and dance to get ourselves psyched for the big game" said Kelsey.

Senior, Justin Kowalski, ran cross country and lettered all four years during his career at Mishawaka To prepare for the season he ran an inexhaustible amount of miles throughout the summer. O average, Justin ran approximately 70 miles per week. His training included long runs and mar races during the summer. When asked about how he thought the season went, he stated, "I wa disappointed with my running. I wanted our team to beat Penn which we didn't do; I wanted t win the N.I.C., sectional, and regional titles. I was also disappointed that I didn't break 17 minut for five kilometers." Next year Justin plans to attend Tri-State University and continue his runnir career, while pursuing a major in computer science. He also stated, "I enjoy running long distances than the 5K. In college the distance increases, and by running longer distances, think I'll do better."

Upper left: Up the hill. Timothy Johnson (Sr) makes his way up the steep and long, drawn-out hill on his last 400 meters to the finish line during the Sectional meet, which was held at Erskine Golf Course. "Since this was my senior year, it was important to me that I stepped up to help the team by running 6th to 7th man," he stated. "I really improved since my freshman year, and I will miss running cross country after I graduate and all the fun that it brings."

Upper right: Off to the races. The seven Mishawaka varsity runners get off to a good start at the Sectional meet. "My plan was to get out fast from the start, get a good position up front, and try to keep the pace until the end of the race," said Calon Naragon (Jr). He also stated, "After the close loss to Penn, by less than a second at the N.I.C Invitational, I knew our team could run with the best, and beat Penn for the Sectional championship."

Lower left: Freshman phenom. Cory Naragon (Fr) is running at the Semi-State meet held at New Prairie High School. Cory said, "My goal this year for the team and myself was to advance as far as possible and hopefully qualify for state. Throughout the summer I ran with my brother and some other upperclassmen runners to get better. At the Regional meet when I finished 15th and qualified for Semi-state, I was really happy but also surprised."

Lower right: Roughin' it. Andy Devereaux (So), Danny Stoll (Sr), Tony Gill (Jr), and Derek Fulmer (Sr) pose for a picture before the adventure run/race at Warren Dunes. Andy said, "In an adventure run, we are broken down into teams, and started with staggered times. During the last mile we constantly looked over our shoulders to see if any team was close to us. We were covered with mud, but we were the champions!"

Ashley Young has been running cross-country for three years, and has been a student here a Mishawaka High School for four years. She became interested in cross-country her sophomore yea when Mrs. Tracy Megyesi asked her to go out in order to condition for track. She prepares herse for the cross-country season with daily conditioning. "I run a lot of miles during the summer," Ashle remarked. Once the season starts, the key to success is motivation. There are quite a few rituals ar traditions that are used to motivate the girls, including Ashley. "We always do a break-out, and w squeak our ducks!" When asked what advice she would give her teammates, she said, "Next yea work hard, and go to regionals."

Upper left: Stride for stride. Vanessa Miller (Jr) has been running cross-country for two years. This is her first year to make all-conference. "I was really surprised even though I've worked really hard to get to where I'm at now," Vanessa stated. Coach Kowalewski inspired her and others by saying, "If you can believe it, you can do it," Miller also said.

Upper right: Finishing strong. Captain, Angeline Ashbolt (Sr), works hard for her victory. There are many factors that play into winning. "The only way to survive cross-country is to stay focused, determined, have the will power, and hold the strive to work hard." This being her last year at MHS, she hopes that the rest of the cross-country members keep running.

Lower left: Teamwork. There are many things that the girls do in order to stay focused on running and on the ultimate goal of winning the race. "Visualization in the wresting room is a big thing," said Vanessa Miller (Jr). A few more traditions are, "break-outs and prayer," said Andrea Tolliver (Jr).

Lower right: Off to a good start. "Missing one day of running sets you back majorly," said Vanessa Miller (Jr). In order for the girls to stay fit and ready to run, they have to condition in many different ways. "Running everyday and staying mentally focused is a must," said Angeline Ashbolt (Sr).

Ryan Wertz was the senior captain and three time letter winner for the Mishawaka soccer team this year. Ryan stated, " I think the soccer team was a lot better than what the record showed this year. We had a lot of senior leadership, which I think really helped the team exceed last year's win total." Ryan said, "I really enjoyed playing with the guys on the team this year, and I enjoyed the new coaching staff for the team." When Ryan was in need of advice about soccer, he turned to Chris Aldrich because he was known as the "Soccer Guru." Ryan's advice to underclassmen- "Make sure you work hard, stay focused on the goal, and listen to your coaches. The underclassmen will neec to step up next year, because the soccer team will be losing nine seniors to graduation."

Upper left: Heads up! Julio Guidi (Sr) heads the ball before the opposing team had a chance to score. Julio was a valuable player to the soccer team in his first year at Mishawaka. His performance in the LaPorte tournament was outstanding; he scored four goals. He said, "I really enjoyed playing for the team this year and I wish we would have won more games."

Upper right: What's that? Zachary Kline (Sr) gets a few pointers from Head Coach Chris Blaisdell. Zachary played on the varsity team all four years of high school. In his final year he not only was the captain of the team, but also achieved Honorable Mention in the NIC. Zachary exclaimed, "We scored on the number one team in the state, St. Joseph and I'm going professional."

Lower left: Huddle! The team gathered at the end of the game after going head on with the Clay Colonials. After the tough match the Cavemen were defeated with a score of 6 - 1, with Daniel Zeiger (So) scoring the only goal for the Cavemen. Daniel said, "We improved from last year and hopefully for the years to come with the help of the new coaches."

Lower right: Watch out! Nicholas Sciacca (Jr) looks on as Clay prepares to kick a corner kick. The goal is guarded by the goalie, along with the help of his fellow teammates. Nicholas has been on varsity for three years and is this year's MVP. "Soccer's fun, I like the new coach and look forward to working with him next year."

"Spartacus!" is the first word that came to mind when Whitney Dosmann (Sr) was asked what she thought about her teammate, Brittany Tepe (Sr). Those who know Brittany know that she is upbeat, fun, a good leader, and an unbelievablely hard worker. Brittany feels that her "best game was against the Riley Wildcats." "I had twenty-seven defensive clears," said Brittany. A defensive clear is when the ball is kicked twenty-five yards. "Senior night was my favorite night; I finally realized I was going to graduate," she stated. As a senior captain, Brittany wanted to give some advice to younger teammates, "Don't complain and ALWAYS work hard!"

Upper left: Going all out! Katie Gnass (So) dives on the ball to prevent Adams from scoring a goal. Katie played goalie for the Cavemen this season because Suzanne Koselak (Sr) went out with an injury early in the season. Katie's favorite part of the season was "Summer camp at Diamond Lake, where Julia and I showed coach how high school students dance."

Upper right: Go for it! Whitney Dosmann (Sr) attempts to keep the ball away from her opponent while dribbling the ball down field. Whitney made the 1st Team All Conference this year. Whitney's advice to younger teammates is to "Train during the off-season; it will prepare you for the season and make you a stronger team."

Lower left: Heads up! Stephanie Paul (Sr) heads the ball for the Cavemen. The Lady Cavemen's home field was located at Emmons Elementary School. The hardest parts about soccer are "having to communicate on the field and running," according to Stephanie.

Lower right: That's gotta hurt! Cari Eller (Sr) is escorted off field by Athletic Director, Robert Shriner and Coach Kerry Wilson after an ankle injury. "Doc" Shriner was often seen around the soccer field giving needed medical attention. Although there were many injuries, the girls still "had a good time and were able to joke around," said Stephanie.

The captain of the boys' tennis team this year was senior Joshua Farmer. Joshua has participated in tennis all four years and is this year's captain. His role as captain this year helped make the team very successful. Senior teammate, Bernard Fraga said. "He really stepped it up towards the middle and the end of the season, and he played the best tennis of anyone else on the team." Joshua was also satisfied with this season's success. "Our team record wasn't bad, but we got sectional runner-ups". As Joshua graduates this year, he has some helpful advice to his underclass teammates– "Keep a positive attitude. Don't put your head down when you make mistakes; don't show any signs of weakness."

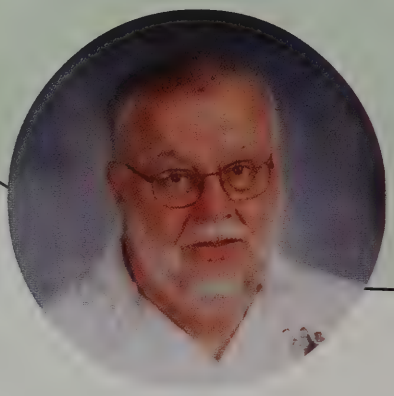
Upper left: Get ready! Seth Haines (Sr) eagerly awaits the return of the ball, while teammate Matthew Riddle (So) watches from the sidelines. Seth has played tennis all four years of high school. When asked what he will miss most next year he said, "my teammates."

Upper right: Hit it! As the ball approaches, Bernard Fraga (Sr) prepares a strategy to return it. Although tennis can be intense at times, Bernard has really enjoyed it. "I like the comradary, the fact that we get to play matches almost every single day against each other or other schools, and the fact that everyone wanted the team to get better," explained Bernard.

Lower left: Concentrate... Korey Phelps (Jr) serves the ball across the court in hopes to score a point for the team. Concentration is a big part of playing tennis. "Half the time I want to throw my racquet... no, seriously, during a match you think about what kind of shot you should hit and your opponent's weakness." Korey is next years' Mishawaka boys' tennis captain.

Lower right: Hard work pays off. Matthew Riddle (So) leads the team away after a tough match against Jimtown. The Cavemen were defeated, but their season still turned out well. "The hardest part of tennis is losing, but my favorite part of this year was sectionals because we did so well," Matt stated.



"We had a good season for a relatively new program. We were nine and seven with four losses coming at the hands of Penn and Marian who were top ten teams in Indiana. We finished behind Marian and Penn tied with Elkhart Central and Riley with 5-3 conference records. We had three seniors and seven sophomores, so the program should progress as I retire. I surely will miss the girls and the chance to teach young ladies a lifetime activity. They helped me keep a young attitude, but it is time for the old "duffer" to relax, golf, and fish. My 27 years of working with youth have provided me with a lifetime of rewards to enjoy as I retire from teaching in a year or two. Thanks girls!" Mr. G.

Upper left: Is this Putt-Putt? Senior, Kari Stamm (Sr), demonstrates the correct putting position, as she putts on the green of the fifth hole. At the home course, Eberhart-Petro Municipal Golf Course, the girls golf team conquered their goals and won their victories with style. "My biggest accomplishment this year was getting my best score of 54," stated Kari.

Upper right: Up, Up, and Away. Brittany Blain (Sr), swings her hardest, hoping her ball will go as far as she wishes. Brittany, as any other golfer, had her own opinion of the game. "You hit the ball, you walk after it," stated Brittany. "Although some people think the game may not be very intense it is very time consuming," remarked Brittany.

Lower left: Looking Good. Sophomore, Amber Taylor, shows everyone her ability to drive the ball on the 3rd hole at Erskine Golf Course. The Cavemen girls played against St. Joe and Clay coming in 3rd place. "Golf is one of those deceiving sports; it is a lot harder than it looks," exclaimed Amber. She worked hard all year and improved tremendously since this was her 1st year.

Lower right: Fore! Sophomore, Allison Gill, strikes the ball on the 9th hole eager to beat the competition. "Once I started playing I realized why so many people are standing on the golf course cursing," confirmed Allison. Although this is only her first year she has enhanced her game and found new and interesting friends along the way.

If you ever attend a basketball or football game at MHS and you look at the sidelines you are sure to notice senior cheerleader, Ashley Smith. She is always out there with a big smile on her face cheering on the boys, dancing, and building amazing stunts. When asked what her favorite part of cheerleading was, she answered, " Getting up in front of a big crowd." She has cheered at MHS for the past four years and after all of this she has narrowed down her best cheer moment to winning the jump-off senior year at camp. She is one awesome jumper and more than deserved this covetec award. If you ever talk to any of the cheerleaders you are sure to hear them talk about the banana. It is an award they received from camp. " I can't even sum up in words what the banana means to me," Ashley stated.

Cheerleaders illuminate the football and basketball games

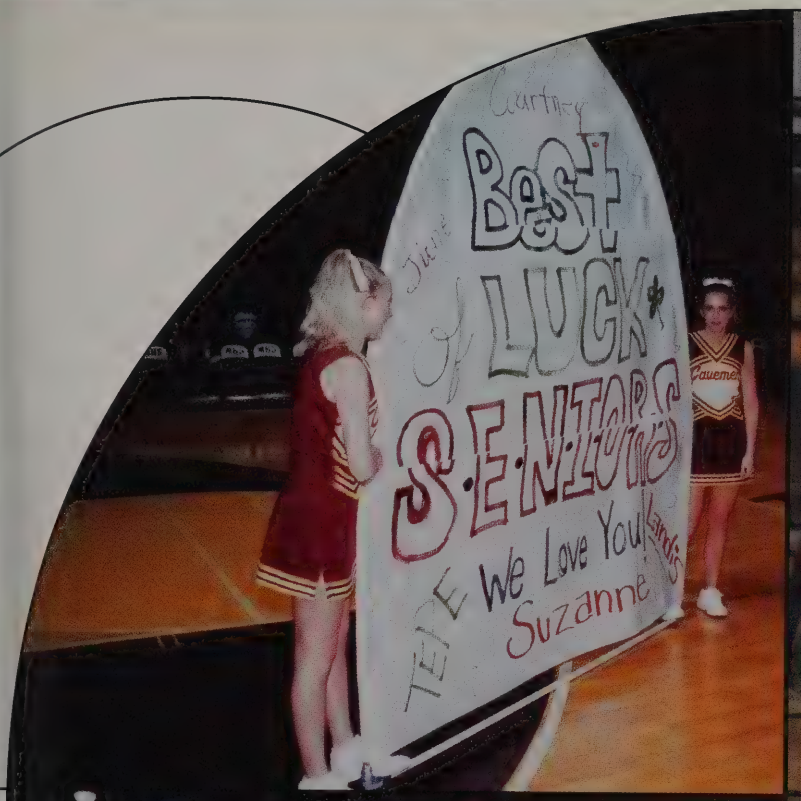
Right: Cheering them on. The cheerleaders cheer on the team as the game nears the end.



Upper left: Getting them ready. Seniors Laura Amacher and Lindsay Myers hold up the hoop, ready for the girls' to run through it. The hoop has been a tradition at MHS for a long time. Lindsay said , "the hoop is motivation, it gets you pumped up." It is made by the cheerleaders before every game for the girls' and boys. This hoop was made for senior night.

Upper right: Reaching for the sky. Junior Emily Stillson sticks a liberty. A liberty is just one of the many stunts the Mishawaka cheerleaders did during the games. When asked how it feels to be a flyer Emily responded, " I love it. It is an awesome feeling." She is held up by her bases, Angie Presits (Jr), Lindsay Myers (Sr), Gabriella Layman (Jr), and Mia Trimboli (Jr). In order to base any sort of stunt the girls have to be very strong. Usually guys would base stunts since they are stronger, but Mishawaka has an all girl squad.

Lower left: Show your smile! Kristin Hutson (Sr) performs the school song at the end of a basketball game. " I think the school song is great. It always puts me in the Cavemen spirit," Kristin stated. The crowd is always pumped when the band starts to play the school song. The girls perform it at the end of every game, win or lose.

Lower right: Lightening the mood. Seven of the junior girls pose for a picture in true Charlie's Angels style. This picture was taken on the night of football homecoming. The game was delayed twice due to bad weather and lasted late into the night. The girls still managed to smile and have fun despite the unfortunate weather and delays. Allison Campbell said, " The juniors always have fun no matter what we do. Even when we are losing in a game we still manage to smile and sing our school song."

Scott Flagle (Sr) was the co-captain of the team this year. He helped lead the Cavemen to their best record in ten years, they finished with a record of 16-7. The team's other accomplishments included finishing second in the Northern Indiana Conference (NIC) and being sectional runners-up. "We had a tremendous year, and exceeded everyone's expectations," Scott exclaimed. Everyone will remember the sectional game against arch-rival Penn when the Cavemen prevailed in an overtime thriller in order to advance to the sectional finals. Scott said, "That was the most exciting game I have ever been a part of." This team will go down in history as one of the greatest to go through the program. This team has permanently changed Mishawaka basketball and now they will be a team with which to be reckoned. Scott warned to other teams, "Watch out for the Cavemen; they are going to be a tough team to play in years to come."

Upper left: Assist! Bradley Wisler (Sr) looks to pass the ball to a teammate. He was a co-captain for the Cavemen. Bradley was a big reason why the boys basketball team did so well this year. He always looked to pass the ball before he shot it. His unselfishness allowed the Cavemen to excel. "I was trying to contemplate the proper angle and velocity that would allow me to enter the basketball into the post where my teammate, Scott Flagle (Sr), would score for two points," Bradley said.

Upper right: Watch out! Head Coach Robb Berger led his team to a victory against the Eagles on homecoming night. The Cavemen enjoyed many victories this year on their way to a 16-7 mark. Coach Berger changed his coaching style a little bit this year in order to accommodate the more athletic team. This worked out well for the team. Coach Berger said, "This team has forever changed what Mishawaka basketball means to other people, and I enjoyed coaching this group of kids."

Lower left: Score! Scott Flagle (Sr) looks to drive to the basketball against Adams. It was amazing how Scott penetrated to the basket which opened up many scoring opportunities for the Cavemen. His ability to penetrate and pass the ball is one reason why he was one of the area's leaders in assists, averaging almost four assists a game. Scott said, "Basketball was a great experience this year and I'm glad we got a chance to win some games."

Lower right: Oh yea! Antonio Dye (Jr) dribbles around an Adams' defender on his way to basket. When Antonio would make a good play he would often yell out, "Oh Yea!" to show his enthusiasm. Antonio was the leading scorer not only for the Cavemen but also lead the NIC in scoring. He was often able to take over a game. Antonio was named First-Team All NIC this year. "We had a great year this year. I think we turned around Mishawaka basketball and I hope we can do even better next year."

Courtney Henry (Sr) was looked highly upon by her coach and fellow teammates. "Courtney encouraged me a lot and helped me keep my head up when I got frustrated in games and in practice," said teammate Bethany Nelson. "She almost didn't play this year; we met this summer and from that day on she dedicated herself to getting better. Her work ethic and leading by example will greatly be missed," said Coach Jankowski. The team had a lot of good memories this year. Courtney's favorite was "throwing Coach Litwin into the snow at Jessica Kaniewski's team dinner." When Courtney was asked about how she felt about the season she replied, "I don't have any regrets; our record wasn't the best, but everyone got along and had fun, which made the season enjoyable." Also some advice for underclassmen: "Go all out and make sure you don't have any regrets, and tie your shoes before you go on the court."

Upper left: Take it to the hoop! Heather Hahn (So) prepares to fly pass her Laporte opponent. The Lady Cavemen had a fresh start this season with a new program and new coach, Kenny Jankowski. "It went well. We got better individually and collectively. The program is now in place and the future looks bright," commented Jankowski.

Upper right: Fight and scrap! Brittany Tepe (Sr) grabs a rebound and pivots to look up the floor. Brittany was a good leader for the Cavemen this season. "I think Brittany was a good leader because she never got down when something went wrong," said Tara Blair.

Lower left: Catch 'em! Tara Blair (So) tries to "spear" the ball in order to stop an easy lay up. A not so popular drill in practice with the Cavemen was "catch up" which is exactly what Tara was applying in the game. Practices were hard but fun. "One time we ran over 100 lines because we couldn't make our free throws; that was a pretty tiring practice," said Bethany Nelson.

Lower right: 1..2..3..Kathryn Buda (So) attempts to inbound the ball to one of her teammates. Most of the girls felt the season could have gone better, but they had fun at the same time. Returning players are beginning to look forward to next year. "I feel it was a rebuilding year and we could have played with more intensity," said Kathryn. Hahn replied, "This season we worked hard and had fun, but next year we'll do better."

Senior Jeffery Vance has been a dedicated Mishawaka wrestler for all four years of his high school career. As told by Head Coach Darrick Snyder and other team mates, Jeffery has become one of the most improved wrestlers this year at Mishawaka. Jeffery says that he owes it all to his hard work. "I have been lifting weights a lot more and practicing ten times harder at our daily practices." Although, Jeffery can not take all the credit upon himself. There are numerous people that contribute to one's success. "I look up to Dylan Eberhart the most among the people on our team. As another senior captain, we both turn to each other for advice about ourselves and about the team." Of course, the Mishawaka wrestling team could not have made it to where they are now without the encouragement and devotion of Coach Darrick Snyder. This being Coach Snyder's first year coaching wrestling at MHS, he has proved his incredible talent and love for the sport. "Coach Snyder is an amazing man and an outstanding coach. He is highly respected and will be greatly missed."

Upper Left: Bow down! Kyle Bergin (Jr) restrains his competition and dominates in his match. Kyle has been wrestling for five years and always welcomes the challenge and strength that wrestling brings. The tradition that Kyle and his wrestling team mates participate in, according to Kyle is, "We all wear our championship singlets during the championship round of the tournament." Kyle plans to wrestle his senior year and maybe wrestle in the future at college.

Upper Right: Down for the count! Jason Francis (Jr) pins his Jimtown opponent as he looks up for the reassuring count of three by the referee. "I listen to music to get pumped up before a match, I mainly listen to Lil' East Side Boyz." Jason has been wrestling for ten years and says that, "One of my unforgettable moments was the match against Penn; the kid was very good and Penn was suppose to beat us. Unfortunately, things never work out the way they are 'suppose' to, and we won."

Lower Left: Make your move! Dylan Eberhart (Sr) quickly and easily takes down his challenger and wins the match for him and his team. In addition, Dylan proceeded to compete in the state competition where he won his match. Dylan has been wrestling since he was in 2nd grade, and his wrestling skills definitely show it. "My most memorable moment in my wrestling career was my first loss which was against LaPorte. Fortunately, after that, I came back and won my next four matches in a row."

Lower Right: If looks could kill. Ian Hinton (Fr) gives the ultimate death stare to his wrestling competitor after laying down the law and overpowering him to win the match. When asked what his favorite wrestling move is Ian responded with, "The ankle-pick; it works for me because I have really long arms." Ian says that his most memorable moment was his match at state; because he was the only freshman in his group. Ian plans on continuing his wrestling career here at MHS and hopes to make it incredible.

Senior diver, Stephanie Paul, has committed herself to many years of hard work. Before entering high school, she dove for the Double Diving Dragon Club at the University of Notre Dame.

During her four years here at Mishawaka, her diving coach, Brian Heintzberger, has helped her develop the necessary skills needed to be able to compete at the next level. Throughout all the seasons and off seasons, she worked very hard to better herself in hopes of earning a State qualification. This year her accomplishments include, Team MVP, First Team NIC, Sectional qualifier, Sectional champion, Regional finalist, and State qualifier. Her advice to upcoming divers is, "It always gets harder before it gets any easier."

Upper left: Back in action! Senior Michelle Swiercz swims the first leg of the 200 medley relay. This year the team got a new coach, but this time the coach was a man instead of a woman. Michelle said, "It was different having a guy as a coach, but I didn't really notice a big difference between having a woman as a coach and having a guy as a coach."

Upper right: Cutting through the water! Senior Kari Stamm swims the 100 yard Breaststroke during Sectional competition at Mishawaka High School. Kari's favorite dryland exercise was, "Duck walks, because they hurt and everybody liked to complain about them."

Lower left: Flying like a butterfly! Senior Taylor Adams swims the 200 IM at Sectionals which were held at Mishawaka High School. This year she didn't want to swim the 200 IM, but her new coach Sean Ballenger made her. She said, "I'm glad he did because it turned out to be my best event at Sectionals."

Lower right: Focusing on the finish! At the Sectional meet, held at Mishawka High School, junior Mallory May swims the 500 yard freestyle. In order to build endurance, she said, "Everyday for practice I swam about 9,000 yards. Over the summer I swam a lot and this helped me tremendously throughout the season."

Jaron Tuttle (Sr) was a good leader and diver for the Mishawaka High School swimming and diving team for all four of his years here. He had many accomplishments, including 4th place in Regionals and 13th place in State this year. "My favorite meet this season was Regionals because it determined whether or not I made it to State," said Jaron. His favorite dive was the "Two and one half tuck." "To my younger teammates, I encourage you to stay with swimming and don't quit no matter what happens. Good luck in the future!" exclaimed Jaron.

Upper left: Superman! John Kamphus (So) performs the forward dive half twist on Senior Night. Swimming practice is quite strenuous. John's favorite practice activity is "diving" and his least favorites are "lunges and push-ups." They had lots of good memories this season, including John's favorite, "pushing oach into the water."

Upper right: Bombs away! Jaron Tuttle (Sr) performs the "Back one and one half sommersault tuck" in the last meet of his diving career here at MHS. He had a solid four years here and was a vital part of the swim and diving team. "My favorite memory was Senior Night because we pushed in the coaches and it was my last meet."

Lower left: Keep goin'! Aron Condon (Jr) swims the 500m freestyle. Aron beat the record three times with his best time being 5:03. "When I beat the record it was just a total rush," said Aron. The boys' swim team worked hard in the off-season. They worked out and swam when they were able to.

Lower right: Faster! Faster! Patrick Stamm (So) performs the Butterfly stroke in a crucial meet. The swim team was very dedicated and practiced twice a day in order to improve. Patrick commented, "I hated two-day practices because you're really tired, but it makes us better."

Senior Daniel Bowman has been throwing the shot-put and discus ever since seventh grade. On Thursday May 13, at the N.I.C. meet, he won the shot-put and took second in discus. Then a week later at the Sectional meet, he captured first place in both the shot-put, and discus. He then placed second in Regionals and advanced on to State. He also became the first person in 12 years to break 50 feet in shot-put. Reflecting back, he said, "The ironic thing is that I would have never done track, except for the fact that my seventh grade basketball coach, Mr. Steve Jones, told me if I went out for track that it would help me with my basketball footwork. That was how it all got started." In order to improve myself, I decided not to play basketball but instead focus on lifting weights and doing technique/form drills. That has helped tremendously. Daniel has learned that," Even if you have an awesome practice, and throw great, during a meet you have to focus even harder." Daniel is going on to attend Ferris State and plans on trying to walk onto the team.

Upper left: Lean and mean. Senior Adam Lacey clears one of the last hurdles in the 110 meter high hurdle race. Adam came ofr-83339-bt13-9-1fr-83339-bt13-9-1and this year he really stepped up to help the team. He said that, "The hurdles are kind of like life. There are a lot of obstacles in the way, but the best thing you can do is to get over them as fast and smoothly as possible." Adam placed seventh in the finals.

Upper right: Reaching for the sky. Junior Paul Stackman easily clears the pole-vault bar as he sails through the air at the Sectional meet. Paul said that, "Ninety percent of vaulting is getting speed down the runway and the planting of the pole. The other ten percent is technique, which you need to use in order to position yourself upside down." Paul cleared his personal best of thirteen feet, earning him second place and a trip to the Kokomo Regionals.

Lower left: Pure guts. Senior Justin Kowalski is running the first leg of the 4x800 meter relay at Sectionals. He ran the first leg in hopes of gaining a lead on the other runners. He said, "The 800 is like sprinting a lap around the track, only to find out that you have one more to go." Justin also placed fourth in the two mile with a time of 10:15.59, which qualified him for the Regionals which were held at Kokomo.

Lower right: Heads up! Senior Daniel Bowman is preparing to launch the discus after he finishes his spin. He has learned many form and technique tips from Coach Steve Jones. His favorite tip was," In order to have a good throw, you have to use your hips." Daniel threw 150 feet and nine inches which earned him first place and qualification for Regionals.

School record holder, state ranked number one, nationally placed, tremendous athlete and all around amazing individual, Andrea Horban (Sr), has really stepped it up on the girls' track team. Andrea absolutely dominates at each of the shot put and disc competitions. Due to her outstanding throws in both shot and disc, it has earned her a scholarship to the University of Indianapolis. The reason behind Andrea's success is her complete passion for the sport. "Day in and day out I would practice my foot work, continuous throwing, and multiple visits to the weight room," Andrea admits. Although, Andrea confesses to enjoy shot put over disc because there is a higher chance to advance. With the help of her teammates, they make it all worth while. Andrea says that her biggest influences have been her teammates. Countless of them look up to Andrea on and off the track, and for that, she is going to be greatly missed.

Upper left: Super woman! Junior Emily Stillson smoothly glides over the hurdles in the 100 meter dash. Tackling the hurdles is a difficult task to nail down. "Acquiring the right foot work and timing is difficult. Trying to obtain the complete correct form is very complicated," stated Emily. With Emily being a returning letterman in track, the Mishawaka High School track season is looking positively bright.

Upper right: In the zone! Sienna Valdez (Fr) and Rachel Wurz (Jr) are deep into concentration while they compete in the two mile. Rachel and Sienna both participated in the one and two mile races. At practices, they occasionally would be sent off on their own to carry out their personal workouts. "The dedication it takes to build the endurance that is needed to aggressively compete in long distance is brutal," Rachel said. Next years long distance program is appearing to have high quality.

Lower left: Complete concentration! Jacqueline Maguire (Jr) shows the competing throwers who to look out for next year. While Senior Andrea Horban was creating a unforgettable name, Jacqueline was devoted to improving her throwing skills to follow in the footsteps of Andrea. Jacqueline has been recognized for becoming the most improved athlete on the MHS track team. "I have spent two straight months in the weight room conditioning before the actual season conditioning began," stated Jacqueline.

Lower right: Striding out! Opening leg, Katie Hesch (Fr), sets the pace in the 4x800 meter race. Katie, as well as, Vanessa Miller (Jr), Shelby Morrow (Jr), and Ashley Young (Sr) constantly broke the school record in the 4x800 meter. Katie has been one of the most talented and committed freshman MHS has seen. "Coming from a middle school track team into the high school atmosphere was a difficult adjustment. These people are way more intense and serious," Katie said.

Jason Wertz (Sr) has been playing baseball since he was around two years old. When he was young his dad got him involved in baseball and pitching. "My dad is really who got me interested in baseball." Jason had many memories in all of his years playing baseball, but the most memorable moment for Jason was beating Penn six to five on their field. "It was awesome," said Jason. Jason thought that it was a rough year and that they could have won more games, but all in all it was an alright season. Even though Jason had a lot of years in athletics he still focused on his studies as well. Jason maintained a GPA of a 3.5 or higher for seven semesters and was recognized for his academic exellence at the senior dinner and at senior awards night. He was also awarded and recognized for his baseball excellence at senior awards night. Jason had a wonderful year and he hopes to continue his journey as he progesses in his life.

Upper Left: Batter Up. Jason Plummer (Sr) gets pumped up to bat against the opposing team. Jason has played baseball since he was six years old, and has always been interested in baseball. "I will always remember conditioning for the tank, also known as Coach Severa," said, Jason.

Upper right: Striking them out. Randolph Schustyer (So) has been privledged to play on the varsity team this year. His positions were pitcher, shortstop, and third baseman. For Randolph playing on varsity was an honor. "It was great to play with the senior class this year. They were a great bunch of guys and a lot of fun to play with. The best part was just hanging out with the team," said, Randolph.

Lower left: Sprint to the first. Jason Wertz (Sr) runs his heart out in the game againist Riley High School. It was the third inning, and MHS is down by one. In order to pull through for the team, Jason had to keep on running until he reached his destination to first base. "It was a rough year, we did not win as many games as we would have liked," said, Jason.

Lower right: Sliding into home. Ty Taylor (Jr) slides into home scoring a run for his team. Ty played second base usually but he was willing to play another positon if his team needed him too. Ty said, "Baseball is a big part of my life and I would like to continue playing in college."

Kari Stamm (Sr) has been playing softball since she was six years old and has done a lot to contribute to the success of the softball program all four years she was involved in it. When asked what was different about the team this year, she responded by saying, "I think we are more focused and we work better as a team." Kari had a lot of softball memories, one of the best being "winning sectionals last year and advancing to regionals." Kari then said, "I hope we can do that again and go even further this year!" The sport of softball was a big part of Kari's life and she "will miss being able to put on the uniform." "Keep a good attitude and always give 110%!" advised Kari.

Upper left: Batter up! Kelsey Egyhazi (So) gets ready to swing for a base hit. "Hitting was the thing we needed to do to win this year. We seemed to struggle at times, but usually pulled through when it was crunch time," said Bethany Nelson (Jr). Kelsey was one the most consistent hitters onthe team. Kelsey stated, "My favorite memory of the season was when we beat Penn, and I scored the winning run."

Upper right: Bringin' the heat! Claire DeVreese (Sr) stands on the mound before pitching one of her 70 m.p.h. fast balls to a Riley opponent. "One of the greatest accomplishments for the team this season was winning NIC," said Claire. She also had many individual accomplishments such as breaking almost every pitching record possible at MHS. Fellow teammate and pitcher, Kelsey Egyhazi (So) "looks up to Claire and hopes to accomplish some of the things she has."

Lower left: Sacha it to 'em! Kimberly Sacha (Sr) strides towards first base after laying down a very well executed sacrifice bunt. Bunting was a big part of MHS softball because it helped advance runners into scoring position. Kim broke the record for the most sacrifices in a season and in a career. "Kim's always able to get a bunt down when we need one," said Tara Blair (So).

Lower right: Defense! Erica Weaver (Sr) complained to star pitcher Claire DeVreese for striking everyone out. "It's not fair; our defense never has to work," laughed Erica. They must have been working harder than they thought because the lady cavemen had seven of their nine starters achieve NIC honors. Six of them gained 1st team all conference.

The boys' golf team had a tremendous season this year. With six returning letter winners to the squad it was sure to be a great season for the Cavemen. They did not disappoint either, finishing with a tremendous record. James Doran (Sr) said, "Golf is a lot of fun, but its a very tough sport. Golf is as much mental as it is physical." James Doran has been on the golf team for four years and is a two time letter winner. When asked about golf James said, "Golf gets ya chicks, the ladies love it." Who could possibly disagree with that statement? James strongest point in his golf game is the approach shot. James is a great golfer and will be missed after this season. James said his most memorable moment being on the golf team was, "When we beat undefeated, ninth-ranked Marian." James advice to the underclassmen, "Play your best and don't lose."

oper left: Hit a House! James Joachim) tries to line up his putt. He eventually ade that putt for birdie. Golfers have concentrate on reading the green 'cause almost half of their strokes me from putting. James said he was e most confident in his short game, nich includes putting and chipping. mes was the number one golfer for e team this year. He is also the ding candidate for NIC MVP. James d, "I like golf, especially when we get leave school early for golf tourna-ents."

Upper right: Up and down! Nicholas Przygoda (Jr) hits his approach shot onto the green. Nicholas' strong point was his iron play and was one of the best on the team at his approach shot. Nicholas was a very valuable player for the golf team, playing varsity for a majority of the season. Nicholas said joking, "I can get up and down from a trash can." Nicholas' most memorable moment from golf was, "Watching the seniors enjoy lunch after the Concord match."

Lower left: Fried Egg! William Smith(Sr) hits a shot out of the bunker after his drive went just left. While William hit a great shot out of the bunker, his strong point was his putting. He boasted, "I had ten putts in one round, with a three-jack on number four." William provided senior leadership for the team this year. He also provided a lot of entertainment for the younger golfers. William said, "I really enjoyed golfing throughout high school, and hey guys check out my new driver!"

Lower right: Sit! Ryan Hoffman(Jr) attempts to make his putt go in the hole. Ryan claims, "My putting is my strong point. The only reason it is my strong point is because everything else in my game stinks." The highlight of his golf season was winning the inaugural Kaeppler Invitational Sportsmanship Award. His teammates named his "Mr. Kaeppler" from then on. Ryan said, "Golf is the toughest sport there is."

Alice Wilson (Sr) was this year's Captain of the Girls' Tennis Team. Alice has participated in tennis for all four years of her high school career. "I had a lot of fun with tennis in eighth grade, so I decided to join as a freshman," Alice explained. This was Alice's last year on the tennis team. When asked what she will miss most, Alice responded, "The bus rides, Chinese firedrills, and playing in the sprinklers." Her funniest memory of her four years on the tennis team was "Stealing lawn chairs from the trash in Laporte after a tournament." Alice gives some last advice to her teammates, "Practice in the offseason as much as you can!"

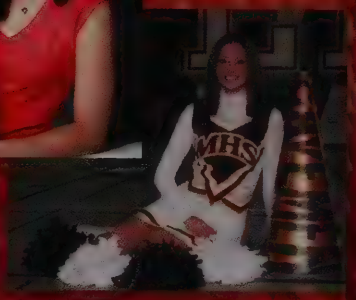
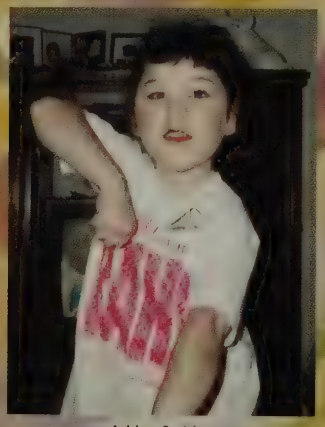
Lindsay,
("Pooh Bear")

The years have flown by so fast. It's now time for you to enter a new phase in your life. We are so lucky to have a daughter like you, kind, happy, gentle, helpful, and loving. You and your sister are like best friends, always keep your closeness , it's a special gift. You have done so many thing and we are so proud of you. Keep yourself focused in the future and go on to accomplish great things.

Love you very much,
Dad, Mom, Heather, and Josh

Lindsay Myers





Ashley Smith

Ashely (Poohy),

You've been making us laugh since you were a baby (piggy face). You have a zest for life, and we're proud of you!

Love, Mom, Dad, and Brett

Kari

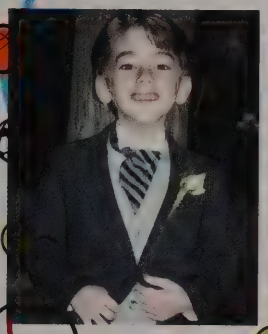
WE are so proud of what you have accomplished during your four years in high school. In sports you have done what you have set out to do, plus set a relay record in swimming and in your senior year you had the courage to try a new sport. Academically you have done a great job. We could not be more proud of you. As you go on to take the next step in your life, just remember you reach for the stars and do whatever you put your mind to. We are always here for you, for the good and the bad. We love you lots.

Love,
Mom and Dad

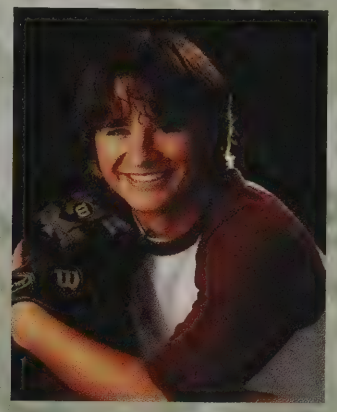
A novel would not have enough room for all we have been through. As I look back on all the good and bad, I can't see anything that I would change. You are everything to me. I'm so proud of you and all that you have done and accomplished. Don't ever stop and settle for good enough. Be great! I will always be here to celebrate the good and cry for the bad. I will always love you.
PJ

Kari Stamm

Seth,
It seems like just yesterday that you were born. You have made me very proud with your academic, athletic, and organizational successes. I am sure you will succeed in all your challenges.
Congratulations!
Love,
Mom



Seth Haines



Kyle Null

Kyle, young man, my son,
My joy and my heart,
You've reached the end,
Only to find a new start.

The world sees a young man,
With all his charm and smile,
But behind the man,
I will always see the child.

We love you,
Mom and Dad

JoAnna,
Wow girl ... Look at you now !!!
Where has all the time gone?
From T-ball to Softball ....
I'll never forget that grand slam.
From crayons to drumsticks
From bicycles to blades ...
It all goes so fast, sweetheart.
So take the time to enjoy it.
We have watched you grow in so many ways.
We are so proud of you.
Your strong, determined "Marching to your own drum" attitude is going to take you every where you want to go.
As well as the caring, loving, spunky, peppy person you are inside.
Well baby, here you go ! Life Chapter Two "Spread those wings and fly!"
We are all behind you, all the way.
We love you sweetheart,
Mom, Dad, Sara, Christopher, Michael, Grandpa, Margo & "Onyx"

JoAnna DeSmith

Stephanie Paul

To Our Daughter
We would like to share these words with you. Always have an attitude of forgiveness, Easier said than done, we know. But if you forget the wrongs to come your way you'll be the victorious one. Go ahead, chase a dream, climb your mountain and walk through your valley to learn what life truly means. Carry with you the spirit of contentment with the ability to make the best of everything. This advice we give to you to carry on life's twisting road. But, we must tell you two more things. We love you and always will, and lastly, we are proud of you.
Love,
Mom and Dad

Dearest Will,
All men dream, but not equally. Those who dream by night in the dusty recesses of their minds wake in the day to find that it was vanity; but the dreamers of the day are dangerous men, for they may act their dreams with open eyes, to make it possible! ... Keep your eyes open... Sweet dreams!

Love You Ever!

Jason,

It's hard to believe how fast the years have gone since you were born. Look back over the past with fond memories, and look ahead to the future to accomplish new goals. Good Luck in College! We know you will work hard, but also have fun!
Love, Dad, Mom, and Janelle

Jason Wertz

Whitney,

You have achieved many things in your short life. The sky has always been the limit with you. Mitchel and I are very proud of you and we love you a lot.
Love,
Mitchel and Mom

Whitney McMillin

Ash,

You have brought sunshine into our lives with your smiles and laughter. You're more than we could have ever asked for in a daughter. Love you more and keep on dancing!

Hugs and Kisses,
Dad, Mom, Adam, Amber, Aaron, Gizmo, and Gypsy

Ashley Whitfield

We've been there through nukies and blankies and Pufalumps. We've been there at night when things would go bump.

We've been there through doctor visits, casts, and boyfriends who didn't last. We've been there through braces, misplaces, and track races.

We've been there through band concerts, choir concerts and Brahms. We've been there through fast driving, empty gas tanks, and proms.

We've been through each and every success watching and enjoying you we must confess. In fifty years, we know you'll assuredly say, "We've been there through each and everyday."

Congratulations on your Graduation!
Remember you can do anything.

Love
Mom and Dad

Laurelle West

Dear Ashley,

You followed your dreams of being among the best and achieved your goals. We believe in you, and are proud and blessed you are our daughter. May all your future dreams become reality at Purdue and beyond.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Ashley Young

JR,
Nine months later, an 8lbs 41/2 ounces baby girl was born to very lucky parents. Amanda, God gave us a gift and that was you. You entered the world late and full of spunk. You always had a mind of your own for which we are thankful. Life has been difficult at times but you always succeed. You wondered why things didn't always come easy for you but that just made you push yourself harder. We have enjoyed watching you grow up to become a beautiful woman. Continue to work hard in your next adventure, college, but don't forget to enjoy life.

Love and kisses always,
Your family,
Mom, Dad, Patrick and Michael

Amanda Stamm

Jamie,
You are a very unique young lady with the purest heart and soul ever seen in one person. Your special zest for life is very refreshing. We are very proud of you! You've reached so many milestones already in your life, and we look forward to many more to come. Remember to always follow your dreams.
Love,
Mom, Dad and Matt

Jamie Riddle

Dear Chrissa,
What a gift from God you have been to us! It has been a joy to watch you grow and mature. The talents you have been given are a blessing, may you always use them wisely. We knew from an early age that you were a gifted Musician and Thespian. Your outspoken manners were our clue to your leadership abilities. We are so very proud of you and the amazing young woman you have become. Continue to grow in God's grace and follow your heart, it has done well so far!
Love, Mom and Dad

Christina Cosby

Congratulations
We Love You
Chrissa!

Emily Ingrid Lauver
I have had no greater joy in my life than to be your mother. I hope you always continue to color the world with your beautiful smile. When in doubt, dance.
Love,
Mom

Emily Lauver

Brad,
I am so proud of the intelligent, articulate, accomplished, and loving young man you have become. Of course I will always remember your chubby cheeks and your four favorite friends. (You know what I'm talking about!) But time has passed and I am happy to say I am your sister. My admiration for you continues to grow as you show us all who you are. I can't wait to be there as you accomplish wonderful things. I love you and know you will always shine in all of our eyes! Emily

Brad,
I am very proud of all your academic and athletic accomplishments, But not as proud as I am of the son, brother, and young man that you have become.
Ian

Brad,
I can't believe this time has come already! What a joy it has been since the day you were born. Part of me is sorry to see these high school days end, but I am so anxious to see what the future holds for you. Your accomplishments both academically and athletically are to be admired without a doubt, but my greatest pride is in the young man you have become. I am constantly amazed at the articulation, poise, consideration, dedication, drive, self-discipline, choices you make, and the inner strength and character that you exhibit every day. God has blessed you with many gifts, and me with the gift of you. Don't ever forget to give back some of what you have been given. Thanks for the memories, Brad, and I can hardly wait for the next chapter. Go Irish!
Love,
Mom

Brad Wisler

Jill,
We could not be more proud of you and your accomplishments. You are an inspiration and a shining star. You always maintain that beautiful, contagious smile and your drive to succeed even while clearing the hurdles and obstacles that you have had in your way. Remember always to laugh, love and strive towards making your dreams a reality. We wish for you a lifetime of happiness and success. The world awaits you.
Love,
Mom and Dad

Jill Morris

Alice, Jamie, and Kearsten,
My best friends-- I want to thank you guys for so many things. All three of you have been there for me when others turned away. As we go to college, I want you to remember the good times, road trips, cook outs, and sledding in July. Good Luck! You can do anything you put your mind to. I love you and don't forget you're HOT MOTHERS
Love,
SPAM

Renee,
I have watched you grow into this beautiful,
intelligent, fun loving young woman
with the voice of an angel.
I have cherished every minute.
Follow your dreams.
You are capable of anything!
I love you,
Mom

A true competitor is what you are
With this, you will make it far.
Anxious to be the first in line,
We should have realized this was a sign!
Your past has been exciting,
Your future will be inviting.
There will be big decisions along the way.
Don't sweat it, deal with them day by day.
You have made us very proud,
You will always stand out in the crowd.
You're a fine young man,
Now it's time for you to create a new plan.

Dad, Mom & Sarah

'It was so much pleasanter at home,' thought poor Alice, 'when one wasn't always growing larger and smaller, and being ordered about by mice and rabbits. I almost wish I hadn't gone down that rabbit - hole- and yet- and yet - it's rather curious, you know, this sort of life!
-Lewis Carroll

Andy,
We are so proud of you, and all you have worked so hard to accomplish. We are looking forward to your next chapter of life. Always keep your great sense of humor, and the world will not be able to resist your smile. We believe in you, and know you can do whatever you set your mind and heart to.
Love always,
Mom and Dad

The Good Lord truly has blessed us the day you, our second born, but never second "best" arrived. It's hard to realize it's time to let you go to find your own place in this world. You've grown up to be such a strong, handsome, caring young man with a wonderful sense of humor. Always remember how proud we are of you and that we'll always be here for you. Thanks for not only being a wonderful son and brother, but also a "special" friend.

Love ya,
Mom, Dad & Tara

ADAM

It seems like yesterday you came into our lives. What a wonderful blessing God has given us. From the beginning you were challenged and over came each hurdle. Every day seems to bring a new adventure; you are a risk taker, a conqueror and quite a joker, too. You have always given us hope, joy, and lots of laughter. Always keep your head up high, your heart in the right place and never give up. Believe in yourself, trust your judgments, and face each task head on. We are very proud of you. So dream, hope, do your best, take the next step of your life and follow the path to the future.

We love you and will always be there for you.

Dad and Mom

Alicia,

You have been a blessing to us since the day you were born. You've brought us great joy, our "baby angel"! Stay close to God in all that you do and He will continue to bless you. We love you and will always be here for you.

Love, Mom & Dad

Lee,

Congratulations! I know that high school has not always been easy or fun, but I knew you could do it. You are a beautiful, funny, and loving person, and I couldn't ask for a better sister. Good luck with all your future ambitions.

I love you!

Love, Heather

It seems like yesterday that you told us, "I'm going to hit my first home run today"... and you did. The sky is the limit, don't ever stop trying to reach your goals.

We are so very proud of the wonderful young man you have become. You are truly the best son, brother, and friend that life can offer. Follow your heart son, we're always here for you. Good luck in college, and keep believing in yourself, we do!

All our love,

Mom, Dad, Teri & Crystal

Congratulations, Marisha!

It's so hard to believe my little girl is all grown up now. Rish, you have grown into such a beautiful young lady. We are so proud of you. You have brought much joy and happiness to our lives. Continue to make wise choices. Embrace the next phase of life after graduation with confidence. We believe in you so remember to believe in yourself. Reach for your dreams. We love and support you.

Amy,
You have grown up so quickly; where do all the years go? I am so very proud of you and the young lady that you have become. You are the sunshine in my life. You have turned out to be so much more than I ever dreamed. I just want yo to know three things: follow your heart; anything is possible; and I hope you dance!
Love,
Mom

Sean Patrick Barcus,

Remember in life we will always stand behind you. You have learned the skills and you have the talent to take yourself to the next level. We know that you will carry yourself with honor and pride. Your mother and I are proud of you.

Kristin,

It really is hard to believe that it has been eighteen years since Tammy and David hung the sign on our porch that said, "It's a girl!" We are very, very proud of the young lady you are and all you have accomplished. With you continuing to keep Jesus first in your life, it will be exciting to see what plans are ahead for you. We love you and are looking forward to your after high school years with you. "For I know the plans I have for you..." Jeremiah 29:11.
Love you, Dad, Mother, Tammy, and David

ADAM DUNLAP

From single life, to single mom,
You were a surprise, you are the bomb.

Love to talk and laugh every day,
Sports all day was all you'd play.

Not just watching, but playing too,
Telling everyone I am so proud of you.

Growing into quite a young man,
Having friends, never the wrong ones ran.

Making wise choices, you seem to excel,
Saying no to drugs, never need to rebel.

Honesty and giving, help relationships mend;
Keep family close by, they are there to the end.

Great/Grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins too,
Stay in touch even when you are out of school.

A step for twelve years was just what was found;
Start your own life by driving around.

Beard and tattoo as SENIOR year rolled by--
Off to college, you know I will CRY.

Letting go for both will be hard,
But Gramps is helping by taking guard.

Good Luck my SON, hope I did my job well,
If not, I will bail you from jail.

Mom

The years pass by so quickly that we sometimes forget to say just how proud we are of you and your accomplishments. Life has thrown us a curve or two in the past few years; I thank you for being supportive and respectful. You have overcome a lot in your 18 years. You are a blessing to this family.

Stay honorable and thoughtful. As a man, your integrity is your most valuable attribute. Be true to yourself and remember to enjoy life.

We are so very proud of the young woman you have become. You are our only daughter who has brought to us so much joy and happiness. You have accomplished so much already, but know that with continued hard work, and faith in God, there is so much more that awaits you. You are stronger and deeper because of the experiences life has given you and the gifts you have make you all the more special. You are richer because of the love of friends and family. Remember that your greatest accomplishments will be realized through your kindness and generosity to others. Always keep close in your heart the love of our family as there is none greater.

You have so much to celebrate,
Mom & Dad

Linzy,
The years have slipped away so quickly, and now our little girl is a young woman about to begin her new life. Thanks for the cherished memories of Kool-Aid stands, bike rides on camping trips, your home-made craftshows, and that surprised & disgusted look whenever "Puff" showed up! Your compassionate heart is a reflection of God. May your future be bright as you serve Him.
Love,
Mom & Dad

People make plans in their minds, but only the Lord can make them come true. Depend on the Lord in whatever you do, and your plans will come true. PROVERBS 16:1 & 3

We have watched time pass from kindergarten to a senior in high school in what seems to be the span of only one year. Time has changed you into a mature young woman. You have used your God given talents to make us very proud. Now it's off to Notre Dame for more challenges.

We thank God for giving us the opportunity to be your parents. We love you very much.

Thanks for being you,
Mom & Dad

You must have been a beautiful baby....

My dear Brittany,

Here you are, my free-spirited child, a high school graduate! You could have traveled the path of least resistance, but you chose to challenge yourself; you persevered and you have flourished! I am so very proud of you and your accomplishments. I hope you will always remember the value of your choices. I trust your college career will empower you to further develop, and find purpose, in your God given talents; for you have been blessed with many gifts. I hope you have enjoyed your journey thus far; you have blessed me with great delight, great pride, and a very special friendship! You have become a lovely young woman, Britt. It will be my privilege to continue to watch you grow.

All my love,
Mom

Greg Hood, left, of Shady Side, Md., and Mike Raab, of Annapolis, Md., enjoy a morning boat ride through a flooded downtown Annapolis, Friday, Sept. 19, 2003. Rising tides from Hurricane Isabel pushed water inland to low-lying areas around the Chesapeake Bay and Potomac River, flooding homes and businesses.

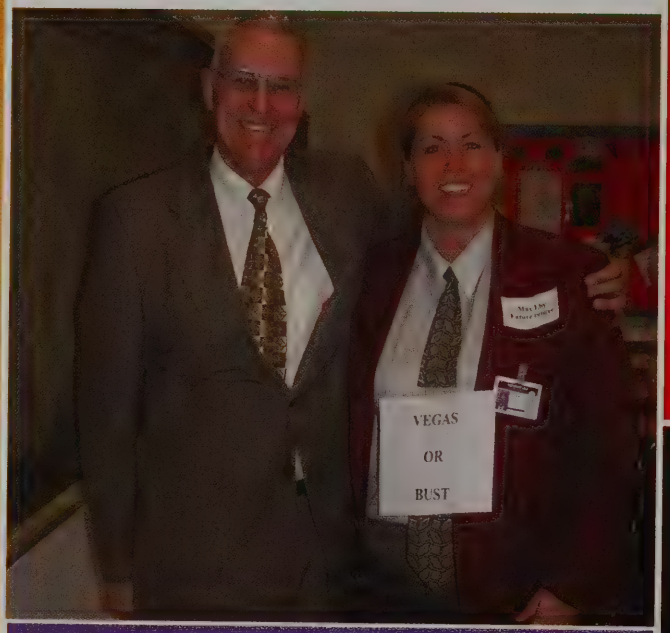
A Special Farewell

Mr. Max Eby

Mr. Eby has been a part of MHS for thirty-eight years. His first three years were spent as a teacher and a boys basket ball coach. After that he became the dean of boys for the next eleven years. Since then, he has been the social principal and actively involved in extra-curricular activities. He said, "I will greatly miss the students and staff, they are wonderful."

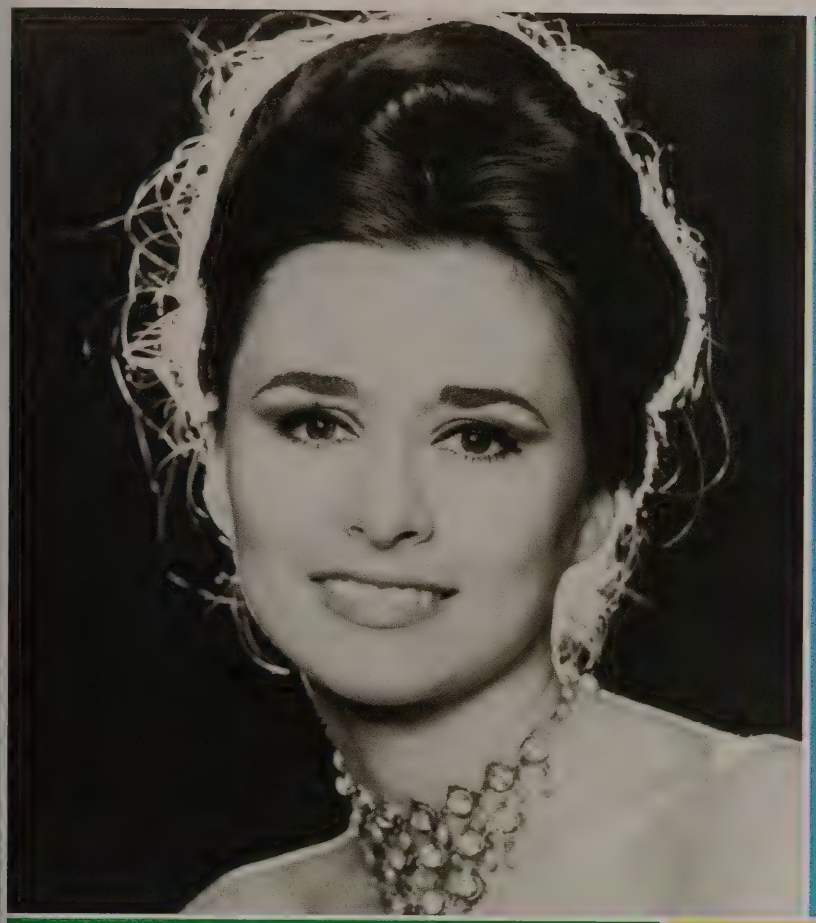
He plans on coming back next year as a volunteer to help the new social principal and make sure everything is in order. He said, "I am going to miss being a part of a wonderful school." Mr. Eby is a big fan of MHS and he always shows his Cavemen pride. He said, " I will miss giving the weather reports, they are my favorite."



Mr. Max Eby and Mrs. Roberta Megyese during spirit week, on "retirement day." Mrs. Megyese said, " Who wouldn't want to be Mr. Eby, he's retiring!"

Mr. Eby is enjoying a break from school with Marilyn Monroe. He said, " There is nothing wrong with working hard and playing hard, especially in Las Vegas."

Mr. Eby enjoys fishing in his free time. He said, "Be careful - one can get "hooked" on the concept that winning beats losing."



It was the year 1963 when Mrs. Jagerman was pursing acting. She said, "I was in New York city trying to find a part in a Broadway show."

Mrs. Jagerman's youngest daughter Jennifer, her husband Ira, and herself have fun singing. She said," We always play the piano and sing at home."

Mrs. Jan Jagerman

Mrs. Jagerman has been a teacher for twenty-four years. When she first came here she not only taught English but directed the school plays. She said, "My favorite play that I directed was Romeo and Juliet."

Her favorite area to teach is British Literature and Shakespeare. There are many memories at MHS for Mrs. Jagerman. She is a graduate and all four of her children graduated from MHS. She said, "I am proud that we graduated from MHS because we all got a good education."

She loves the students that she works with. "I always love it when former students come back and visit," she said. We will miss Mrs. Jagerman and won't forget all the things she has done.

Mrs. Jagerman, Jennifer Vena (Sr), and Stephanie Marshall (Jr) smile for the camera while they chat. Jennifer said, "I always talk to Mrs. Jagerman, I am going to miss her. She is a great teacher."

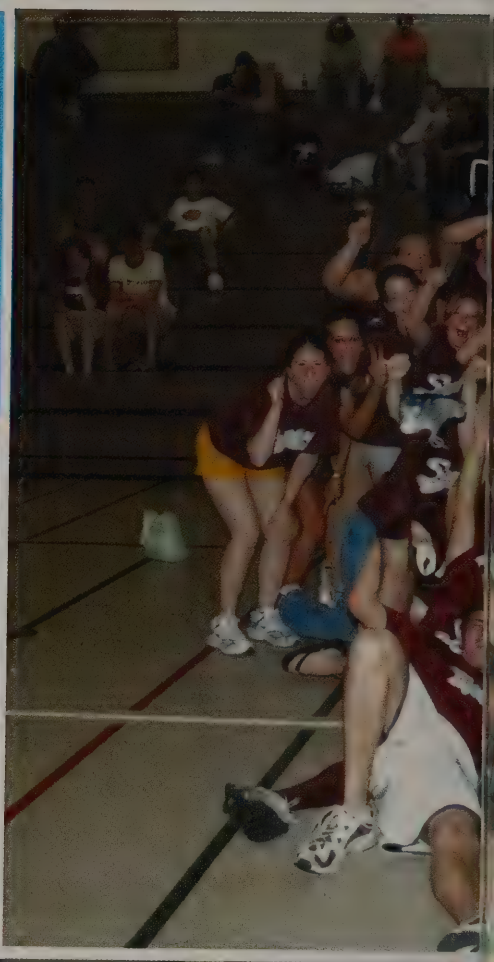
Deborah Fleming, D.M.D.

Deborah A. Sriver Fleming, D.M.D. is a Michiana native, having graduated in 1978 from Mishawaka High School. While attending Mishawaka, she was involved in many activities from orchestra to National Honor Society. She was also the first to receive the coveted white letter sweater.

After graduation, Dr. Fleming attended the University of Kentucky on a volleyball scholarship. She graduated in 1986 with distinction. She then moved on to Kentucky College of Dentistry. Dr. Fleming completed a General Practice residency at the University of Louisville in 1987.

After practicing in Louisville for 3 years, Dr. Fleming returned to Mishawaka. Dr. Fleming is currently Vice President of North Central Dental Society. She is married with four children and resides in South Bend.

Class Olympics is a great way to wrap up the year. It's time for the winning team to show the rest of the schools who's boss. This year it just happened to be the senior class. "Class Olympics were awesome and we dominated everyone," said Scott Flagle (Sr.)

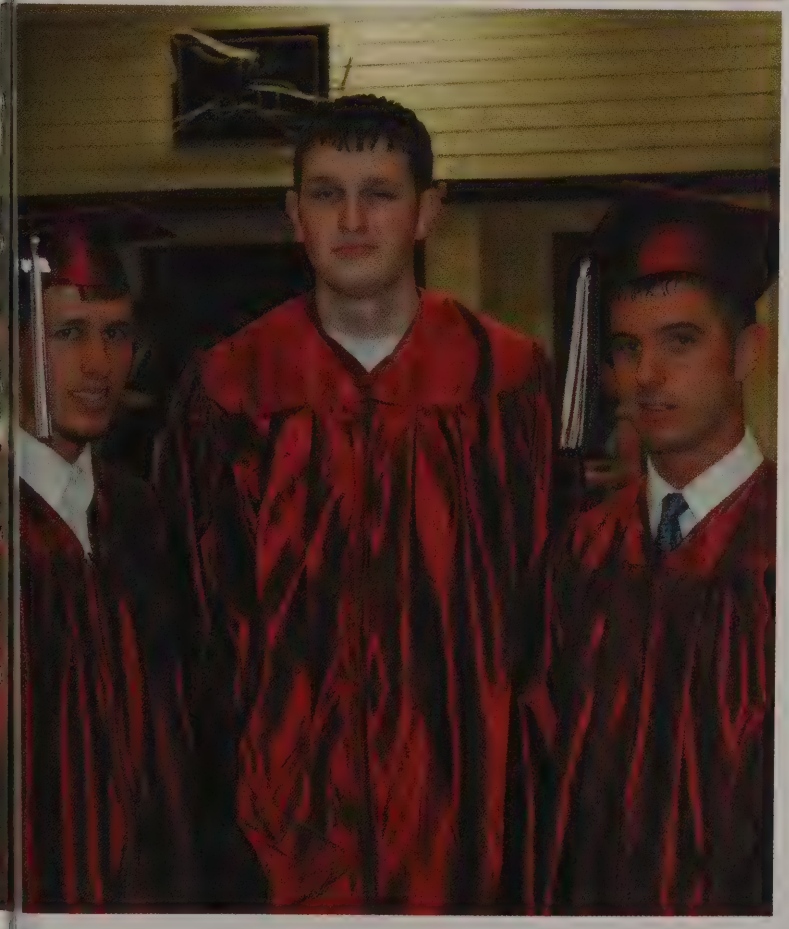


For a lot of seniors the end of school year means receiving awards and pursuing their goals and dreams. For Elizabeth Urban that's exactly what this means. "She has obviously done a job well done and she really deserves it," said Ms. Anita Nash.

Mrs. Sue Escher helps out Joanna Desmith (Sr) send a college application. If Joanna could give any advice to next year graduates it would be to ,"stay focused and have as much fun as possible. It has helped me to make the best out of my high school years," said Joanna.

Angela Presits, Cynthia Rios, and Wendy Guerra clean out their lockers at the end of the year. "I can't wait until locker clean out because I know that the end of the year is right around the corner," said Angie.

Graduation is a time for friends and family to come together and share the wonderful moments. For a few seniors this really touches at home. Jason Wertz, Daniel Gleissner, and Bradley Wisler have been friends for a long time and now their high times are coming to an end and will be only memories. "It's been a long four years, but I am glad that it's over even though it's very sad to see everyone go," said Daniel Gleissner.



Orange You Glad School's Over?

By the end of the year, students, as well as faculty and staff are ready for summer. To some, summer means a long break to sleep in, while for others, it's the last time to be with their high school friends. High school is full of great memories, but graduation means new friends, new places and a new beginning. "I'm excited for school to be over, but I'll miss all of my friends," said Megan Kuzmicz (Sr).

Even though people are leaving their high school years behind, they will find new things to keep them interested. Some think of this time as being sad and others think of it as being wonderful.

Even though that this stage in our lives is ending, we are beginning and setting the stones for the rest of our lives. "I am ready to move on and go to college," said Matthew Boles (Sr). Some students are more ready than others to move on and have been for quite some time.

"I've had senioritis since freshmen year. It's not so much a feeling it's part of you," said Nicholas Kincses (Sr). Nicholas is not alone when he says this.

Ryan Wertz (Sr) said, "It's so close to the end that it's hard to stay here." Congratulations to the class of 2004, and good luck in the future.

Colophon

Volume 90 of the Mishawaka High School Miskodeed was sponsored by the English Department for one elective credit each semester.

The Miskodeed was supported through book and advertising sales. Books were sold during three sale campaigns: From August 12 to August 14 the prices were $30.00 and $35.00 (with name plate), from August 15 to October 1 the prices were $36.00 and $40.00, and from October 2 to April 1 the prices were $45.00 and no name plates were available. Prices for advertisements ranged from $30.00 to $300.00. Senior ads were $65.00.

Jostens Publishing Company based in Clarksville, Tennessee,lithographed the book. Phil Page was the local sales representative.

Studio One Photography studio based in South Bend, Indiana, took the senior photographs.

Jim Parker of Studio One Portraits in Indianapolis, Indiana, took the sports team photos and all music groups.

Other candid photos were taken by the yearbook staff with a digital camera and members of the student body.

The main type styles used through the book included Eras Book, Impact, and Fairtrade. The paper is Monarch Gloss 80#. The cover is embossed and gloss laminated. 850 copies were printed.

We would like to send a special thanks to our leader and advisor Mrs. Laurie Coffel who kept us on track throughout the creation of this book. We thank her for all of her time, hardwork, and patience.

To my staff,
What a colorful year we have spent together. I hope you take lots of happy memories with you and some day tell your kids that joining the yearbook staff will be the time of their life.
Keep in touch!!
